(Temporary position for the fall 2016 semester)

POSITION OVERVIEW
This document describes duties that the Academy expects of adjunct faculty members. Adjunct faculty are non-permanent, temporary faculty who are hired on a semester by semester basis.

This current opening is expected to teach 9 credit hours in the fall 2016 semester.

Position Title: Adjunct Instructor of Marine Transportation
Department: Marine Transportation Operations
Reports to: Adam Slazas, Department Chair

The Marine Transportation Department seeks to fill a 1-semester adjunct instructor position in late August 2016. An instructor to teach multiple sections of the labs associated with Introduction to Nautical Science is sought. The successful candidate should be experienced with the subject matter and be able to teach modern and traditional seafaring and vessel operation skills. A baccalaureate degree, valid Unlimited/1600/500 Ton Master with current physical clearance and appropriate STCW certification are required. Prior college level teaching proficiency is highly desirable. Candidates without the above credentials will be considered based on previous, closely-related experience, including appropriate maritime industry or military service. This position requires teaching aboard various MMA vessels and is subject to MMA’s random drug testing program. Pre-employment drug testing and background check are required.

NS101: Introduction to Nautical Science — An introduction to nautical science which covers basic skills that would put the student at the able bodied seaman level of knowledge and prepare the student for the U.S. Coast Guard lifeboat examination. This course supports the marine license program requirements to meet the Standards for Training, Certification and Watchkeeping (STCW). The course may have embedded assessment requirements that must be completed in addition to the class requirements. Rec. 2, Lab. 2, Cr. 2.

Responsible for 9 sections of lab with up to 20 students each.

TEACHING
Teaching responsibilities include time spent in the classroom, laboratory, or training ship(s) and in immediate preparation for these; maintaining and improving competence in subjects being taught; preparing contemporary teaching materials; conferring with students on course materials; directing individual and group studies and practical demonstrations; reviewing written examinations and papers; evaluating presentations; supervising independent study projects, supervising or teaching clinical cooperatives or industry programs, and assigning grades according to existing Academy policy.
OTHER ASPECTS OF FACULTY PERFORMANCE
Collegiality, as well as professional and ethical conduct, enhances teaching, learning and the general reputation of all persons in the academy. Therefore, all faculty members are expected to serve in a collegial fashion and in accordance with professional and ethical principles when dealing with other faculty members, students, administrators, and members of the public.
