Suggestions on What to Bring

It's important to note that less is more when it comes to packing – especially for your first semester on campus! Folks almost always overpack and they either end up finding a place to store some items or give items to their family to bring home. Keep in mind that the more you bring, the less space you'll have in your room and the more stuff you'll have to pack at the end of the semester!

Please coordinate with your roommate(s) to minimize duplicate items.
