OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

6 June 1953

A FAREWELL TO THE CLASS OF 1953:

The Academy bids farewell to the Class of 1953 as it leaves to take its place in the life and history of our State and Country. We give you with pride to the services at sea, for we know your character and quality.

The experience you have gained in cruising and maintaining the training ships will prove most valuable to you in your future duties at sea. This experience and the instruction you have received in the classrooms have given you the foundation of the complete seagoing officer. Upon this foundation you will build your career.

Remember that you have been trained for a life of leadership and that your associates will look to you for leadership. Capacity for leadership is largely a state of mind and must be cultivated. The exercise of leadership is a skill and must be developed by practice. Therefore, take every opportunity to improve your capacity for, and your skill in leadership.

You are the fifth class to graduate from this Academy which has completed three full years of training, and which has received an academic degree. The proof of the superior training you have thus received is yet to be demonstrated. The eyes of our Alumni, the Maritime industry, and the people of our State are upon you watching for that demonstration.

Those of us who know you have confidence in your courage and ability to meet this test, and to earn success and happiness despite the obstacles which are sure to beset you. Our best wishes go with you.

W. W. Warlick
Rear Admiral USN (Ret.)
Superintendent.

"WELL NOW -
There's two

"Jim"

JAMES ALAN ADAMS
FARMINGTON, MAINE

A typical Northern Yankee, Jim's dry humor provided the necessary ending to almost everyone's statements. "Ole' Titus Moody," used to come out with just the few words needed, at the most opportune times. His abundant knowledge of engineering and especially math will carry Jim far.

RICHARD LEONARD ANGELL
TURNER, MAINE

One of the best natured guys in our class, he was the point of all our pranks, and one who seemed able to find humor everywhere, with everything . . . any time. One of Dick's famous sayings was, and we quote, "There's always some son-of-a-gun that never gets the word." A Diesel expert, he had new ideas, including the development of an improved type piston cooling.

RICHARD HARDING ARMSTRONG
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA

"Stop talkin' like a fool," came from the Basso Profundo voiced cotton picker from Virginia. This "Tom Sawyer" was one of the best "Diplomats" to ever emerge from M. M. A. When Armpit was not busy applying for extra liberty for the Seniors, he could be found brewing coffee in Room 30. Full of stories about imaginary characters, the "Bagger" still was able to do his tough job very well.

"Basket"

BARRETT ALBERT BAILEY
MAYWOOD, NEW JERSEY

The Basket, proud possessor of the infamous "Blue Horror", is usually found beneath or on top of it—yet insisting of its top notch mechanical condition. When engaged in any discussion whatsoever it was certain that Barry, in his aggressive ways would stand by his beliefs. As Editor-in-Chief of the yearbook his sometimes belligerent manner was not sanctioned by all but nevertheless his untiring efforts made him the key man in its organization. We know that he will have better luck in the engine room than he had with his "Bucket of Bolts."

"Bake"

RONALD VERNARD BAKER
BRADLEY, MAINE

Here is a man that everyone liked. Versatile to the point of even being a "Judo" expert, "Bake" was also a top deckman. Seamanship was Ron's dish, though he seemed to have many other "Dishes" elsewhere, too. An expert Drummer in the Band, he was, besides, a good conversationalist. One of M. M. A.'s unbeatable pool sharks, too. It won't be long before it will be "Captain Baker."

THOMAS CADE BAUM
THOMASTON, MAINE

Tom used to say, "If they would give me half an hour at the end of each day, I'd commute from Rockland." Tom was so fast that he could leave a room, descend the stairs, and be off in his car before a guy could even say, "Who's there??" Tops in disposition, Tom never let the eccentricities of the school trucks get the best of him.

HARRY EVERETT BOLSTER
GARDINER, MAINE

"Hey, what's for chow today?" . . . An avid follower of all chow lines, early ones preferred, "Middie-Bug" also was another prodigal of Rip Van Winkle. Disappointed that there were no leather raincoats, sold at Lloyds, he still managed to look sharp. In class his attention was so intent, that he was all eyes.

EDGAR LEO BOURGEOIS
ASHBURNHAM, MASSACHUSETTS

The merry musician from Mass., armed with barber shears in one hand, sheet music in the other, sang, tooted and plunked his way through three harmonious years at M. M. A. Ed was a prime factor in the nefarious "Bar L" Jamboree and whether he goes with Mor-Mac or the Metropolitan, he will be a credit to either.

"Mike"

MICHAEL JOSEPH BURKE

"Mike" was one man that will always get ahead. One of the "Mike" and "Ike" team that ran competition with Mr. Small for the magazines that were sent to the library. Always one to give a helping "hand" to those that needed help for any exam. "Yaka," although quiet, had a quick sense of humor and usually was found at the bottom of all practical jokes. . . . Also a good track man.

"The Deal"

EIGIL CARLSSON
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

"The Deal" always had a deal in the making whether it was getting out of Maintenance or Inspection. Our little "Pilgrim," was a photo expert, who also could extract the meat of all subjects from his always handy reference books, at the most appropriate times. The kinda guy who, if ever torpedoed, his crew, upon rushing to the lifeboats, would be sure to find "Eagle" already inside starting the motor. We are confident that "Ike" will make a place for himself in the maritime world.

"Gonzales"

PHILLIP LLOYD CHAPLES
HUDSON, MAINE

Phil did a great deal to make this book you are now holding possible, by his enterprising advertisement campaign that swept Central Maine like Sherman's march through Georgia. Most of his spare time was spent on the "88's" pounding out some lost prelude or the introduction to the "Fifth Plutonian Nightmare." "Gonzales" could always be counted on to decipher any weird Spanish phrases that came the way of the unfortunates in "D1".

The sharpest man in E-1, the "Blade" was one of those who "nose" everything. Aggressive and belligerent, he never gave in to any argument till he had changed the subject, and had you arguing about "Dear" hunting at which he was so adept. An avid participant in almost all intramural sports, Carl was a great ball handler. A sure success is his in all his endeavors.

"La Vaca"

NATHANIEL CHOATE II
SEARSPORT, MAINE

It was a rare occasion when during a class the dull mooing sound could not be heard throughout the class, followed by a loud chorus of "La Vaca!" La Vaca's knowledge was as broad as his body. He was always willing to share this knowledge with others, and in lending a helping hand with great patience. Industrious and bombastic (at times) here is another great potential.

"O'lof"

WILLIAM HERMAN COOK
MANCHESTER, N. H.

Bill possessed an uncanny ability to choose an appropriate, animated name for almost all members of the class, and there were few indeed that escaped the observing eye of this cotton-topped New Hampshireite. Not only was Bill holding down an inside position on the scholastic rail, but did a fine job leading the A-1 mobsters into regimental glory at Friday inspection. With this and nameless other things to his credit, the 'Lof will find fame.

A very industrious engineer, he still managed to find time for sack drill. RICHARD BRANDON CRATTY

Dick came to us after a stormy nautical career at Admiral Farragut Academy, and managed to carry on his nautical knack in a true Reisenberg fashion. Dick was a great morale factor for "D1", for no matter how serious a tone the classroom assumed, he could be counted upon to find humor in the morose. Dick was not only a rugged mainstay of the football line, but his gentle side came through with his ardent affinity for pigeons.

From out of the deep, dark, forbidden depths of suite 35 came the statement of the age, "Deane, let's go down to the dock and stomp crabs." Dutch, a former National Guard mortar man, and an advocate of all other things regimental, could be found most every evening with a Naval Science book in one hand and his own transferred clothing stamp in the other feverishly guarding his most cherished Lucky Bag. The Merchant Service will probably be cheated out of a fine officer as Dutch looks toward a career with the United States Navy.

Middies Beat Bay Staters
To Close With 6-3 Record

Maine Sailors
Rip Bay State
Rivals, 32-13

From the rock-bound coastal town of Castine came the cry from the Fighting Middies for bigger and better foes. Answering the call were colleges all over New England. The colleges of Norwich, Loyola, and Worcester Polytechnic Institute all thought that the Middies were ready to play their brand of ball.

The big question in the minds of the sports writers was, "Are the Hoctormen ready to stay in this class of ball?" It was known that the Sailors had quite a few lettermen returning, but were they going to have the reserve strength that is needed in this day of football.

Before the season even opened, the Middies tested their strength against a Bowdoin team which went on to win the Maine State Series. Against this club the Hoctormen showed a strong defensive club with its standout being Carl Zuk who drove the Bowdoin coach wild all afternoon. This game also hurt the Sailors when they lost senior Sonny Holt for the rest of the season with a bad ankle injury.

The opening day found a hard-charging Middle team fighting all the way with a talented Norwich club, but succumbing to the Vermonters by a 30 to 0 score. The Middies' only bright stars were Carl Zuk, hard-hitting line backer, and freshman Don Clifford at quarterback.

Pete Scala Breaks Loose Around End Against Mass.

A hard week was put in by the Sailors. The problem being to find a backfield combination that would click. On Saturday the hard week paid off as the Middies crushed Higgins Classical 20 to 0, and Coach Hoctor had come up with a new find in another freshman, John MacPherson, a converted lineman to fullback. The touchdowns came by the route of a pass from Clifford to Keith, a MacPherson buck, and a 33-yard sprint around the end by speedster Pete Scala. Another loss which was to hurt the Sailors was the arm injury to Carl Zuk which disabled him for the season.

An old rival was to rear up next to face the Middies in M. C. I. Under their new coach, Nels Corey, who in his previous coaching job at M. C. I. had never been defeated, looked like a hard one for the Middies. The game was decided in the first half when the veteran Sailors, Dick Cratty, John Spear, and Nick O'Brien, opened up the center of M. C. I.'s line making way for good gains by Scala, Hainer, MacPherson, and Quarterback Clifford, who all scored before the afternoon was over.

In the early morning, the bus pulled away from the Middie den as the Middies set sail for Mass. where they were to take on the powerful Worcester club. The Sailors knew this was going to be no easy task, for the Engineers, on the week before, had almost upset Tufts. What the sports writers had said about the Middies in early season predictions proved itself to a tee in this game, as the Sailors held the Engineers to two points in the first period, but lack of reserve strength and the Engineers' two-platoon system had crushed the ever-charging Middies 35 to 0 as the final gun went off.

The following Thursday night found the Sailors on the road again, headed for the plain country of Montreal to battle with Loyola College. The year before the game had been close, the Middies winning by one point, and the Canadians were itching for revenge, which was obtained by a 13 to 6 score. The game was loaded with bad breaks for the Sailors, as fumbles and pass interceptions kept the Sailors bogged down all afternoon. The bright side of the game for the Middies was the hard break away running of Pete Scala and his running mate, Butch Hainer. Scala scored the only U. S. touchdown on a beautiful trap play in the center of the line.

Next on the schedule, the Sailors were out to prove that they still were above college freshmen brand of ball. On the next three weekends, the Sailors defeated Bates Frosh 46 to 0, Maine Frosh 13 to 0, and Colby Frosh 42 to 0. In winning these three games they compiled some heart-warming facts for Coach Hoctor in rolling up 101 points to 0 for the opposition and seven times as many downs as the opposition.

The long runs of Pete Scala and quick-driving plays of "Butcha" plus the fine pass catching of Co-Captain Fran Herbert were just too much for the Bates visitors. Fran Herbert broke the backs of the Bates Frosh by his long pass catching and before the afternoon was over he had crossed the golden line twice. Other touchdowns were scored by Scala, Hainer, Michelsen, and Brawn. Freshman Jim Fairbanks also hit the pay dirt twice for scores while playing a good game.

The early risers saw the slow-starting Middies grow stronger as the sun rose and subdue the fighting Maine Frosh. This was a lineman's battle the whole way with Dick Cratty, Art Lapham, and big Rube Stinson stopping the Frosh when called on to do so. Rube Stinson received a head injury and was replaced by Norm LaRochelle who played a great game. The scoring was produced by Freshman Jackie Cutliffe who crossed twice, on a long pass from Michelsen and on an interception.

Next the Sailors were to finish with the Frosh at Colby where they had little trouble in crushing the Young Mules 42 to 0. Coach Hoctor had plenty to smile about as big Bruce Michelsen overcame his pre-season jitters to pass all afternoon to Herbert and Cutliffe. The scorers were as follows: Michelsen (2), Brawn, Herbert, Beaton and Riddle (1). Senior Ricky Hall hit the "six-point group" for the first time with a short plunge. The outstanding lineman for the afternoon was Co-Captain Jack Tremble, who stopped the Frosh sweeps all afternoon.

Maritime Eleven Whips M-Frosh In Tight 13-0 Clash

Jack Cutliffe Intercepts for T. D.

The game of the season was to follow as the Sailors headed south to Mass. for the game with the old rivals, Mass. Maritime. This was to be the seventh meeting of the two teams and unknown as yet the fifth victory for the Middies from Down East. It was a lineman's battle from start to finish as each line tore at the other. This great line play sent both teams to the chucking slot, the Middies had the "rail" all the way. Fran Herbert sent the crowd into a roar in the second play of the game when he went 53 yards on a pass. Scala and Hainer bowed out on their great gridiron careers with good yardage all afternoon. Of the great line seniors, Dick Cratty, Art Lapham, and Jack Tremble kept the Mass. backs wishing they were somewhere else all afternoon.

The roars of the day were for John Spear who tackled like a tiger and kept the Mass. coach pulling his hair. Scorers were Herbert (2), MacPherson (2), and Cutliffe (1).

The Hoctormen will be losing senior co-captains Fran Herbert and Jack Tremble, Dick Cratty, Pete Scala, Butch Hainer, Art Lapham, and Rickie Hall.

Now a cheer for the unsung heroes, the managers, who waited on us hand and foot. Led by Senior "Tiger Gerow" and his cohorts, Jack Adam, Don Foye and Conrad Revtyak, the job was done right.

Baseball 1952

The 1952 baseball team returned intact from the preceding year. The seniors on the squad numbered only 4, namely: Micky Johnson, Larry Sparta, Bob Groder, and Capt. Niffie Smallidge. Other members of the 1952 squad were Capt.-elect Deane Deshon, Fran Herbert, Jack Huff, Herb Molke, and Dave Eldridge. Newcomers to the team were the following freshmen: Fales, Michelsen, Brophy, O'Connell, Pearson, Bennett, Keith, Graham, and Landry.

With this promising roster of diamond material, Coach Ken Brown set out to build a winning team. The snow was still on the ground when he had the boys outdoors in the fort and began to mold into shape his team who ended the season with 11 wins and 7 losses. The following is a summary of the schedule and scores.

MMA 8	Husson	1	MMA 10	Maine Frosh	3
MMA 3	M. C. I.	4	MMA 5	Searsport	2
MMA 9	Husson	1	MMA 9	Bucksport Buckos	2
MMA 4	Bates Frosh	5	MMA 6	Searsport	7
MMA 5	Ricker	2	MMA 11	Bucksport Buckos	7
MMA 2	M. C. I.	3	MMA 6	Blue Hill	9

MMA 13	Colby Frosh	14	MMA 8	P. C. F.	10
MMA 5	M. C. I.	4	MMA 8	Blue Hill	3

Fran Herbert, catcher, proved to be the outstanding hitter for the season with a lusty average of .328. He also led the team in doubles and triples, and runs-batted-in. Jack Huff, center fielder, led the team in home runs with 5.

The freshmen came through in great style in the pitching department. Pearson, O'Connell, Bennett, Keith, and Landry all proved to be capable hurlers. Pearson led the pitchers with a 4 wins and 0 loss record.

The season ended with the line-up as follows:

Fales, 2nd	Molke, 1f	Eldridge, rf	O'Connell, p
Deshon, ss	Herbert, c	Brophy, 3rd	Bennett, p

Intramural Sports

Intramural sports at M. M. A. offer a great deal of excitement and relaxation from the regular routine. Of all the intramural sports, Basketball is the one that is enjoyed the most. The games are very close and a great deal of competitive spirit is shown between the academic sections and classes.

This past year, under the supervision of Bob Hefler and his Board of Governors, the season had an early start. Close games between D-1, E-1, and E-2 were continuous occurrences. The team captains were Co-Capt. Rollie Ricker and Ronnie Baker for D-1; Bob Day for E-1, and Dick Main for E-2. The season ended with E-3 and E-4 in a tie for first place and D-1 and E-2 in a tie for second place. E-1 was in third.

We all thank the members of each team for giving us a good brand of basketball for our enjoyment in the nights throughout the weeks.

Boxing

For the first time an old sport was organized into a club and a new brand of boxing was introduced at M. M. A. this year. Under the supervision of Wayne Selberg, an amateur boxer and former Golden Gloves Champ, the club molded into a fine boxing team, after spending many nights of training when the daily routine was through.

The Boxing Team gave the Academy much enjoyment at the annual Smokers which featured many good fights between the team members and volunteers.

We wish to thank all participants for their time and effort in giving us this fine entertainment.

1952-1953 BASKETBALL

The Middies got off to a good start by racking up six wins against a single loss in the first seven starts. A series of colds prevented the Academy team from being at full strength for the first couple of weeks.

Coach Hoctor expressed satisfaction at the scoring spree put on by Sid Graham, former Stearns High performer, against Maine Central Institute. Graham, held to 4 points in the first half, canned over half of his shots in the second half and finished the game with 22 points.

Excellent rebound work has been done by John Crowley, formerly of Cheverus and Bruce Michelsen, 6'5" center, Jack Cutliffe, Old Town, and Al Bennett of Camden will probably round out the starting five for the coming games, although Sulides of Rockland and Hank Powers, former Morse High Captain have been spelling Michelsen and Bennett.

The high scoring Middies, paced by Michelsen and Cutliffe with scoring totals of 150 and 90 points respectively, have averaged 87 points a game. Their season's high of 115 points, oddly enough, resulted in the only loss suffered by the team this season. Higgins defeated the Middies in that game by a score of 118 to 115.

Steve Vickery, Herb Molke and Fenton McAvoy were lost to the club after the third game when they had to report to New York on December 1st, to board the training ship.

After a stretch which saw the high scoring Middies of the Maine Maritime Academy play twelve games in four weeks, Coach John Hoctor's players left the hardwood courts to return home for the holidays. The Midshipmen, who won 10 out of 12 games, racked up a total of 1,033 points for an average of 86 points a game. Three times in the season the Middies scored over the century mark, registering 115 points against Higgins Classical Institute, 101 points against the Maine Frosh, and 106 points against Maine Central Institute. Two of the 100-point games were played on foreign courts to make the feat even more amazing.

The fastbreaking Middies were led by 6'5" Bruce Michelsen who averaged 19 points per game. Mike broke his own scoring record with a 41 point outburst against the Bates Frosh at Lewiston. Other members of the squad are evenly bunched in scoring with a twelve point average per game including John Crowley of Cheverus High, Captain Sid Graham of Stearns High, Hank Powers, former Morse High Captain, and Jackie Cutliff of Old Town.

Only teams to beat the Middies are Higgins Classical, who had to score 118 points to accomplish the deed, and the Bates Frosh, who defeated the Academy 82 to 78 last week. The Academy holds single or double victories over the Maine Frosh, Brunswick Naval Air Station, M.C.I., Husson College, Ricker College, and Norwich University.

After the Holidays the Varsity Squad resumed its schedule with a three day jaunt to Massachusetts, tackling the Naval Receiving Station and arch-rival Massachusetts Maritime Academy on the 6th and 7th of January. On January 5th, the Squad saw Notre Dame vs. Holy Cross basket game at the Boston Garden.

Games with Higgins and Husson wound up the season as the Academy left on its annual training cruise to the Caribbean on January 12th. The baseball and basketball teams expect to play against the leading University and amateur teams in the Caribbean area.

TO THE CLASS OF "53":

We want to thank you for backing us up and your undying help while doing this yearbook. We enjoyed doing it and we hope that in the future years it will serve its purpose well.

Only organization like our class had, could have made a book like this possible. Also your response in bringing your candid pictures and in selling ads in your home town. They all total up to having made this book what it is.

Thank you,

Ancient Problem... MODERN SOLUTION

For centuries, a mariner's only instruments of navigation were the sun and stars. Then came early forms of compasses and astrolabes—primitive instruments—but at least they relieved navigators from utter dependency on the solar system.

With the development of the Sperry Gyro-Compass early in the 20th Century, a new era was born... an era that made navigation an exact science. While great improvements had been made in magnetic compasses and sextants, for the first time navigators had in the Gyro-Compass a true-north seeking direction indicator free from magnetic disturbances. With the advent of loran and radar Sperry brought further peace of mind to the shipmaster.

Sperry Loran gives the modern mariner his position anytime, anywhere within range of radio signals from land-based transmitting stations.

Sperry Radar is his safeguard and protection when visibility is poor... permitting his ship to operate on schedule through fog, rain and darkness.

Today, this group of three Sperry instruments—with their complementary auxiliaries—provide a vessel with a modern means of making navigation safer, simpler and more efficient.

The AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE plays an important part in our daily lives, and in the welfare of our Nation. It provides generally the means of transporting from farm and factory the goods we produce. It furnishes the nucleus of our Armed Forces auxiliary. It provides employment for thousands of our people in ship yards and factories as well as on the high seas. Since the AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE affects the welfare of every citizen—and since the defense requirements of our country are the concern of all of us, the AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE becomes the individual problem of every citizen.

If all of us will simply keep these things firmly in mind and make this understanding known to as many people as possible, we will have done a great service in maintaining our AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE, our greatest instrument of world trade, a main part of our transportation system, and an essential auxiliary of our Armed Forces.
