DEDICATION

Who has assisted us the most in the past four years? To whom do we owe our undying gratitude for staying with us for four years of intense change. From a bald timid freshman who squared his corners the first time home on liberty, to a fat arrogant senior.

So now as time has caught up with us we must say thanks to the people who made it all happen.

We the class of 1974 dedicate this edition of the Trick's End to the Parents, Wives, and Friends who guided us and stood by us for four years.

ADMIRAL RODGERS

Capt. Hill: But I just don't understand it, we have never had problems like this in the canal.

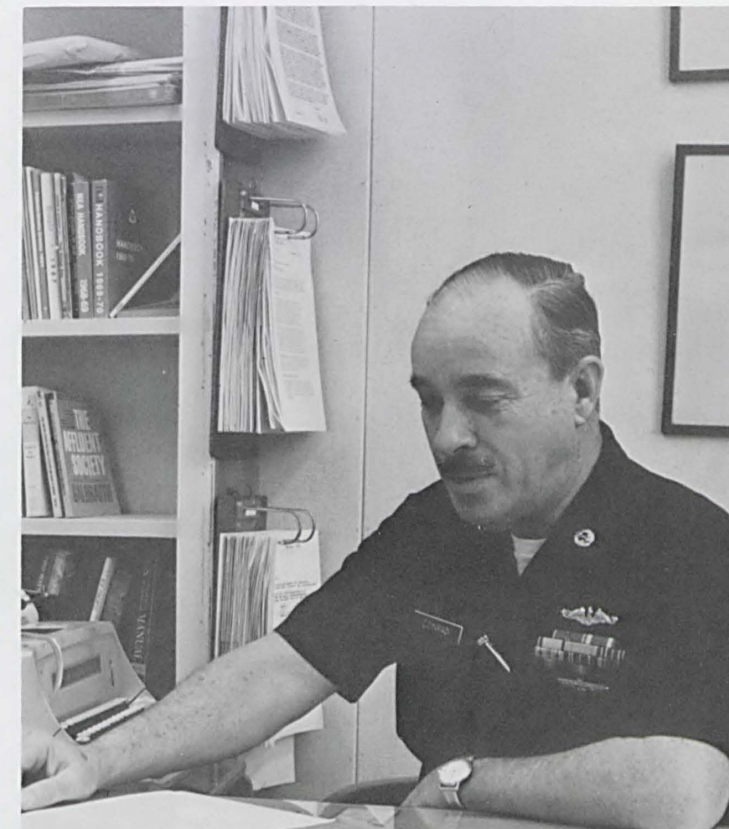

Capt. Conrad: Well they could work maintenance on Thursday and Friday afternoons, and alternate Monday mornings thus missing only a minimum of their valuable class time.

Chief Creighton: Would you believe fuel oil in the reefers. I alway thought Jonsey's food was greasy. Next he'll probably put soy beans in the hamburger, or green peppers maybe.

CREATION

In the beginning, Captain Terry created the heaven the the earth.
 And the earth was without form: and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the spirit of Captain Terry moved upon the face of the waters.
 And Captain Terry said, let there be navigation, and there was navigation, and he saw that it was good.
 And Captain Terry said, let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and Captain Terry made the firmament, and he called the firmament the "Bridge".
 And Captain Terry said, let the waters under the Bridge be gathered unto one place, and let dry land appear on charts: and it was so.
 And Captain Terry called the dry land earth, and he called the gathering of the waters seas, and he saw that it was good.
 And above the Bridge Captain Terry created the heavens, with umpty-ump number of stars and planets, and he even created a moon, which although being lousey for navigation, was one hell of a help in creating the tides.
 And it came to pass that Captain Terry created the "Deccer" and the "Omeegeer", and transmitting stations popped up all over the earth, and he saw that they were pretty good.
 And Captain Terry said, let the earth bring forth the living beast and the creature and things that crawl, so Captain Terry created the ordinary Seaman, the A.B., and the Engineer, and he saw that they'd just have to do.
 And Captain Terry said, let us make mates almost in my image, and let them have dominion over the sextants, the Deccers & Omeegeers, all except the Radar, which nobody touches but me.
 His faithful follower and disciple — Wm. Hunt

A SALUTE TO GEORGE JACOBS ON HIS RETIREMENT

To Jake;

It would be hard for me to try and state the number of accomplishments which you have made in your years at MMA, or the number of men you have turned into good engineers.

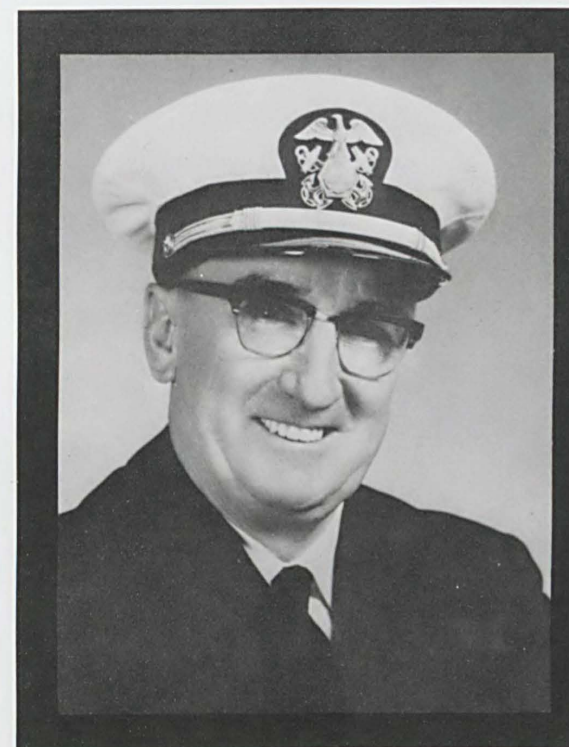

What can I say about you and the men like you who have built the reputation of Maine Maritime Engineers. Whatever I say will fall short because words do not explain the admiration all of us have for you.

I know I speak for my class and for the Alumni of this school in wishing you the very best of luck in your retirement years. Thank you for the education.

Sincerely,
The Class of 74, And Alumni

MEMORIUM

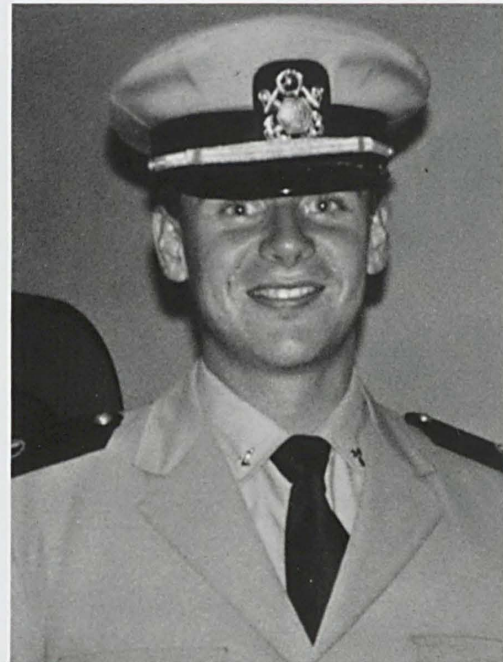

FRANK WARE

A more gentle and friendly man than Frank Ware there has never been. His interest in the welfare of the students at Maine Maritime Academy was second to none. Words cannot explain the deep feeling of regret at the loss of such a fine man.

Do not be in a hurry, all that you have within will manifest itself in time. Work in moderation. Moderation is the only way to gain health, happiness and peace. When you observe this, then all your efforts will be crowned with success.

Let your earnest prayer be that all your associations and contact with life may bring you strength and inspiration for your work, and that you may find peace even in the midst of great difficulties. Difficulties and dangers are found to all, but those who meet them calmly and bravely, they grow stronger from them; while those who give way and succumb to them, they are always miserable.

I shall not pass this way again
Through this toilsome world, alas!
Once and only once I pass;
If a kindness I may show,
If a good deed I may do
To a suffering fellow man,
Let me do it while I can.
No delay, for it is plain
I shall not pass this way again.
Unknown

The 4 to 8 really looked sharp!

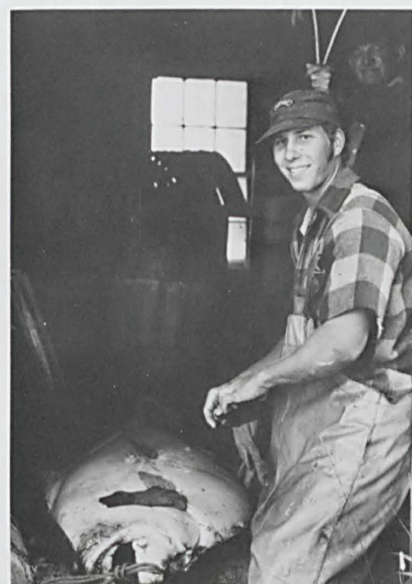

Along the road
I walked a mile with pleasure;
She chattered all the way,
But left me none the wiser
For all she had to say.
I walked a mile with sorrow
And ne'er a word said she;
But oh, the things I learned from her
When sorrow walked with me!

Until I met a child with no eyes

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.
St. John 15:2

I stand alone, but not to be condemned,
Only to live my life according to my Beliefs and my God.
I am only the small amongst the large
And only a meek voice within the crowd
I am the weak amongst the strong and a Second compared to the never ending.
But to condemn all this is to criticize
What God has given the gift of life.
Why then must man hurt, criticize and Condemn man and make this

15:2

The Lord is on my side I will not fear, for what can man do unto me.

Psalms 118:6

. World a hell of a place to exist
When it could be a beautiful place to live.
Yet I am something because I feel everything. And though everything is important,
Nothing is important. For when you are given
Insight to the Lord all else will follow.
Man is nothing without God and to put
Your confidence in man instead of trusting
In God is the biggest sin of life.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Twass a week before Natal, and all thru the ship, the wise guy named Archie was getting quite sick. Big Nig Devou was still running his mouth, until he saw what was stirring about. The nit wit called Dildo was choking on ulcers playin with valves while the cat soon discovered the lights were all flickering, the lube oil was low, the safeties were lifting, the vacuum was gone. No water in sight, the fires were sputtering, nobody could tell what old Joe was muttering. Things were quite dismal, Bruce Dow as shaking, the cat was meowing, guitar strings were breakin.

Then came thru the door the old zip to four, with vise grips and ball peens ready for war. Led by Rotor, and Marv we came down the ladders. Frank took the fires, Rotor the throttles, Marv saved the board, and Dago took the lube oil. The chickens before us were under the covers, The plant was again saved from the weak cold hands of the 8-12 swines.

We don't have to brag cause we know we're the best, those 8-12 morons went down with the rest. We don't blow safeties, and we don't get scared like Beg Nig and Arch, and their side kick the Cat, we keep the lights on, and that Arch is that.

Sea-Land pioneered containerization in 1956. Since that time its growth has been phenomenal. Sea-Land provides door-to-door container capability both domestically, including Alaska and Puerto Rico, and internationally to and from ports and inland cities throughout northern Europe, the United Kingdom, Mediterranean, Caribbean, and Far East. EDITOR'S NOTES

Before I make a closing statement, there is just one more person who should be recognized for his achievements. There is one senior who has done a singularly magnificent job for which he would NORMALLY RECEIVE NO PRAISE. Yet his accomplishment is probably the most important contribution one can make at Maine Maritime. His efforts is what this school is all about.

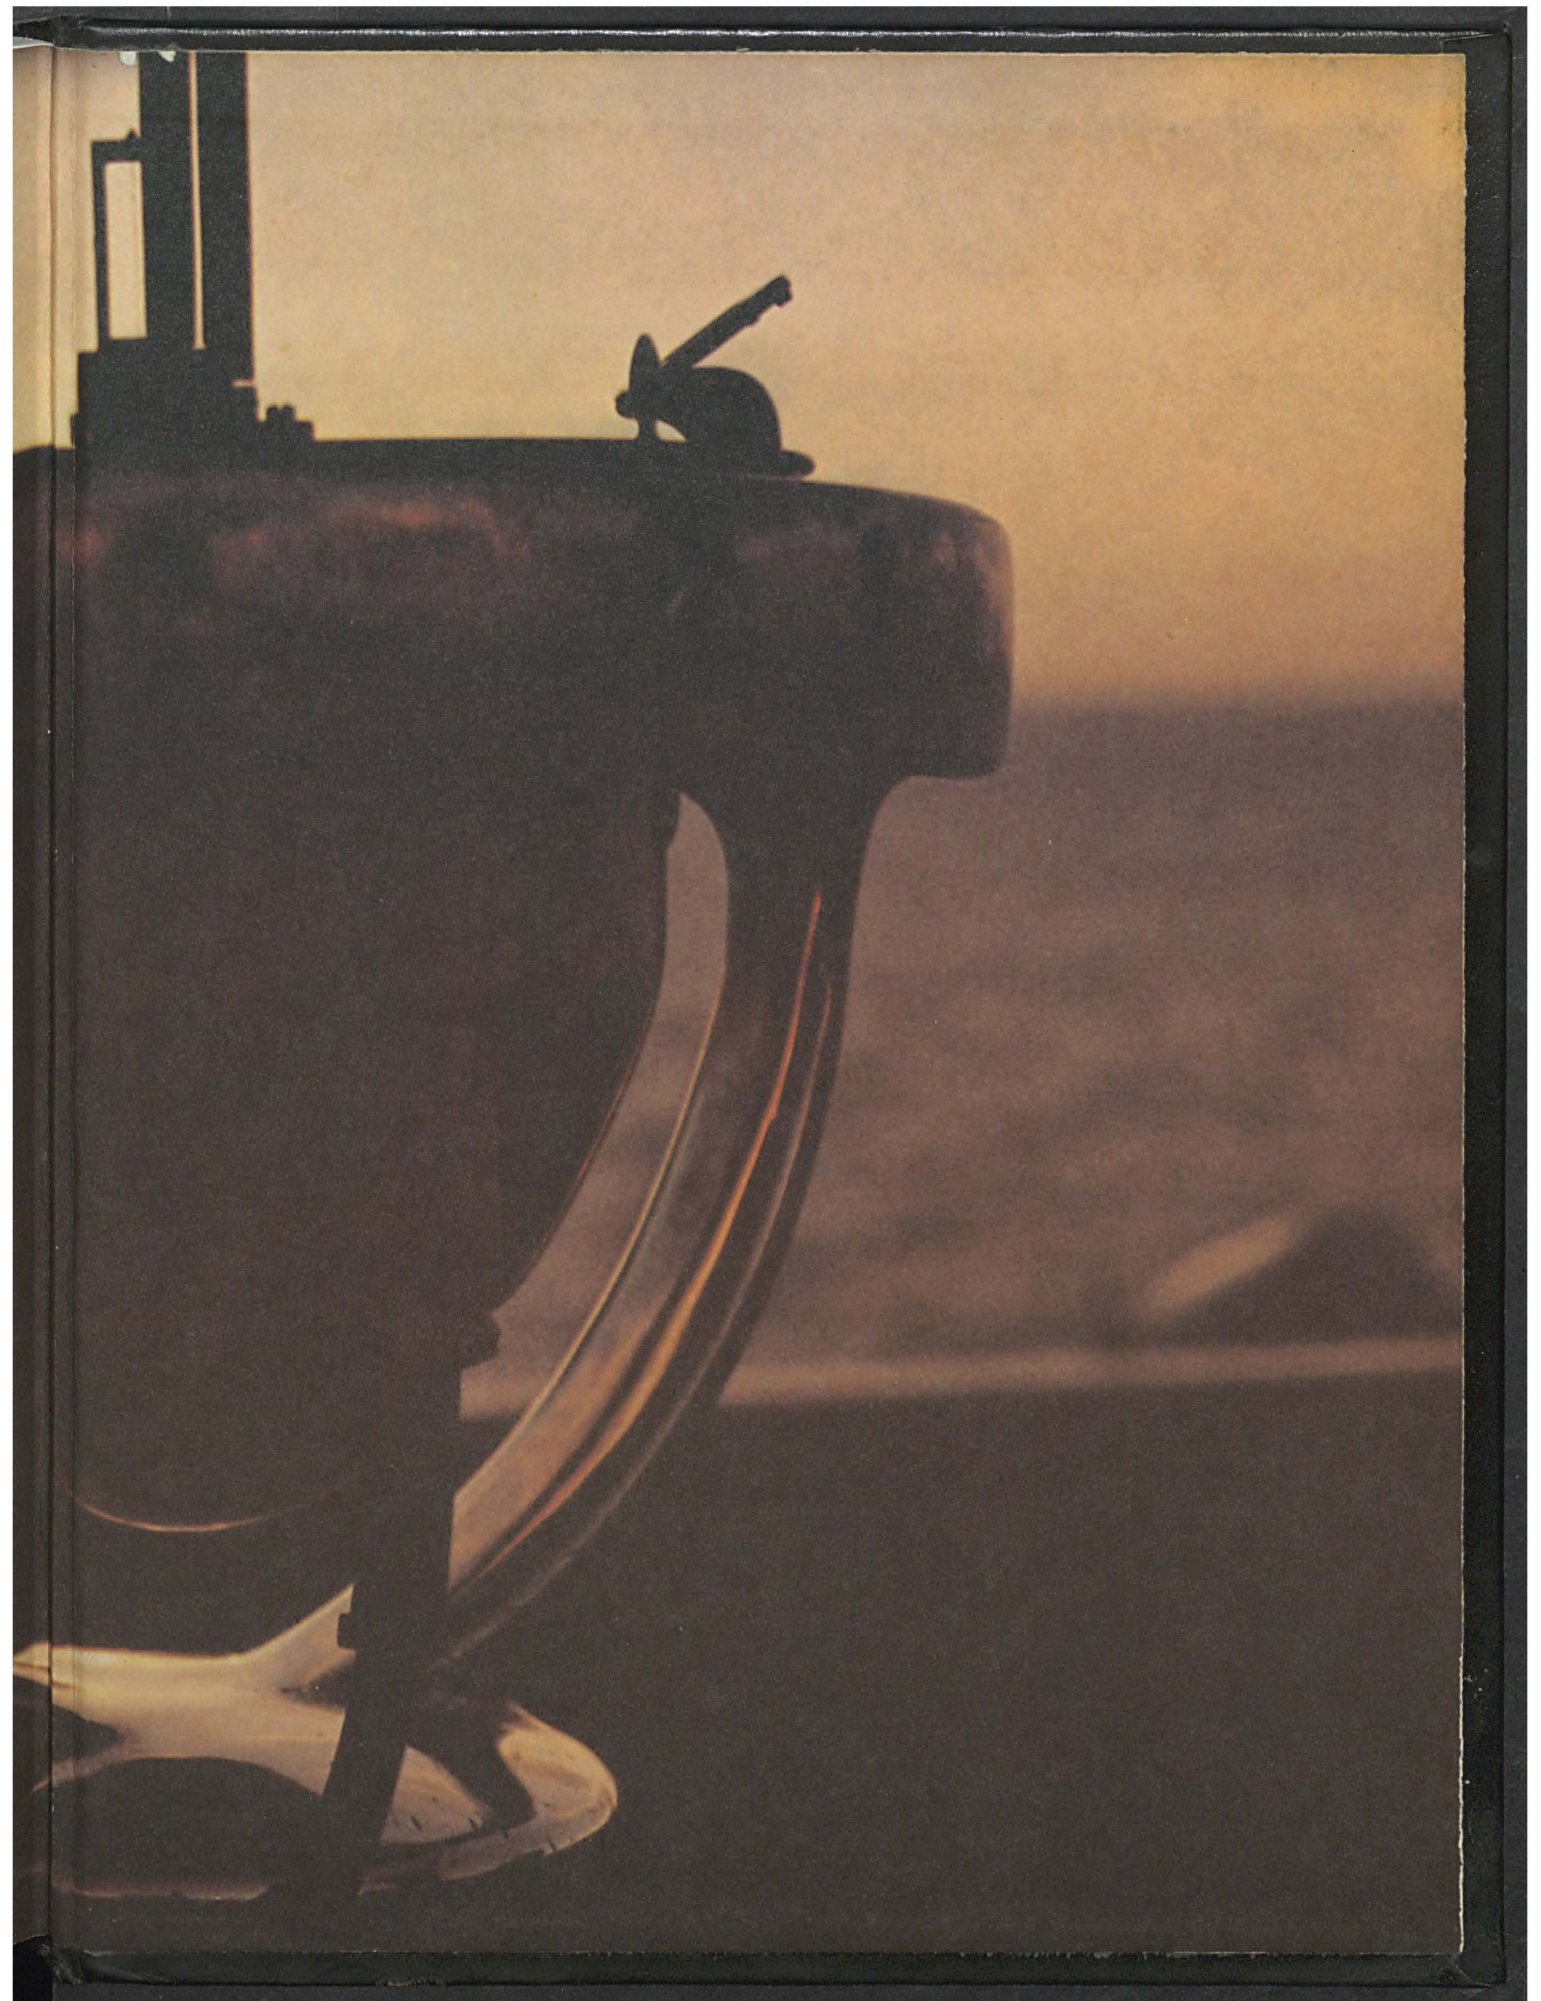

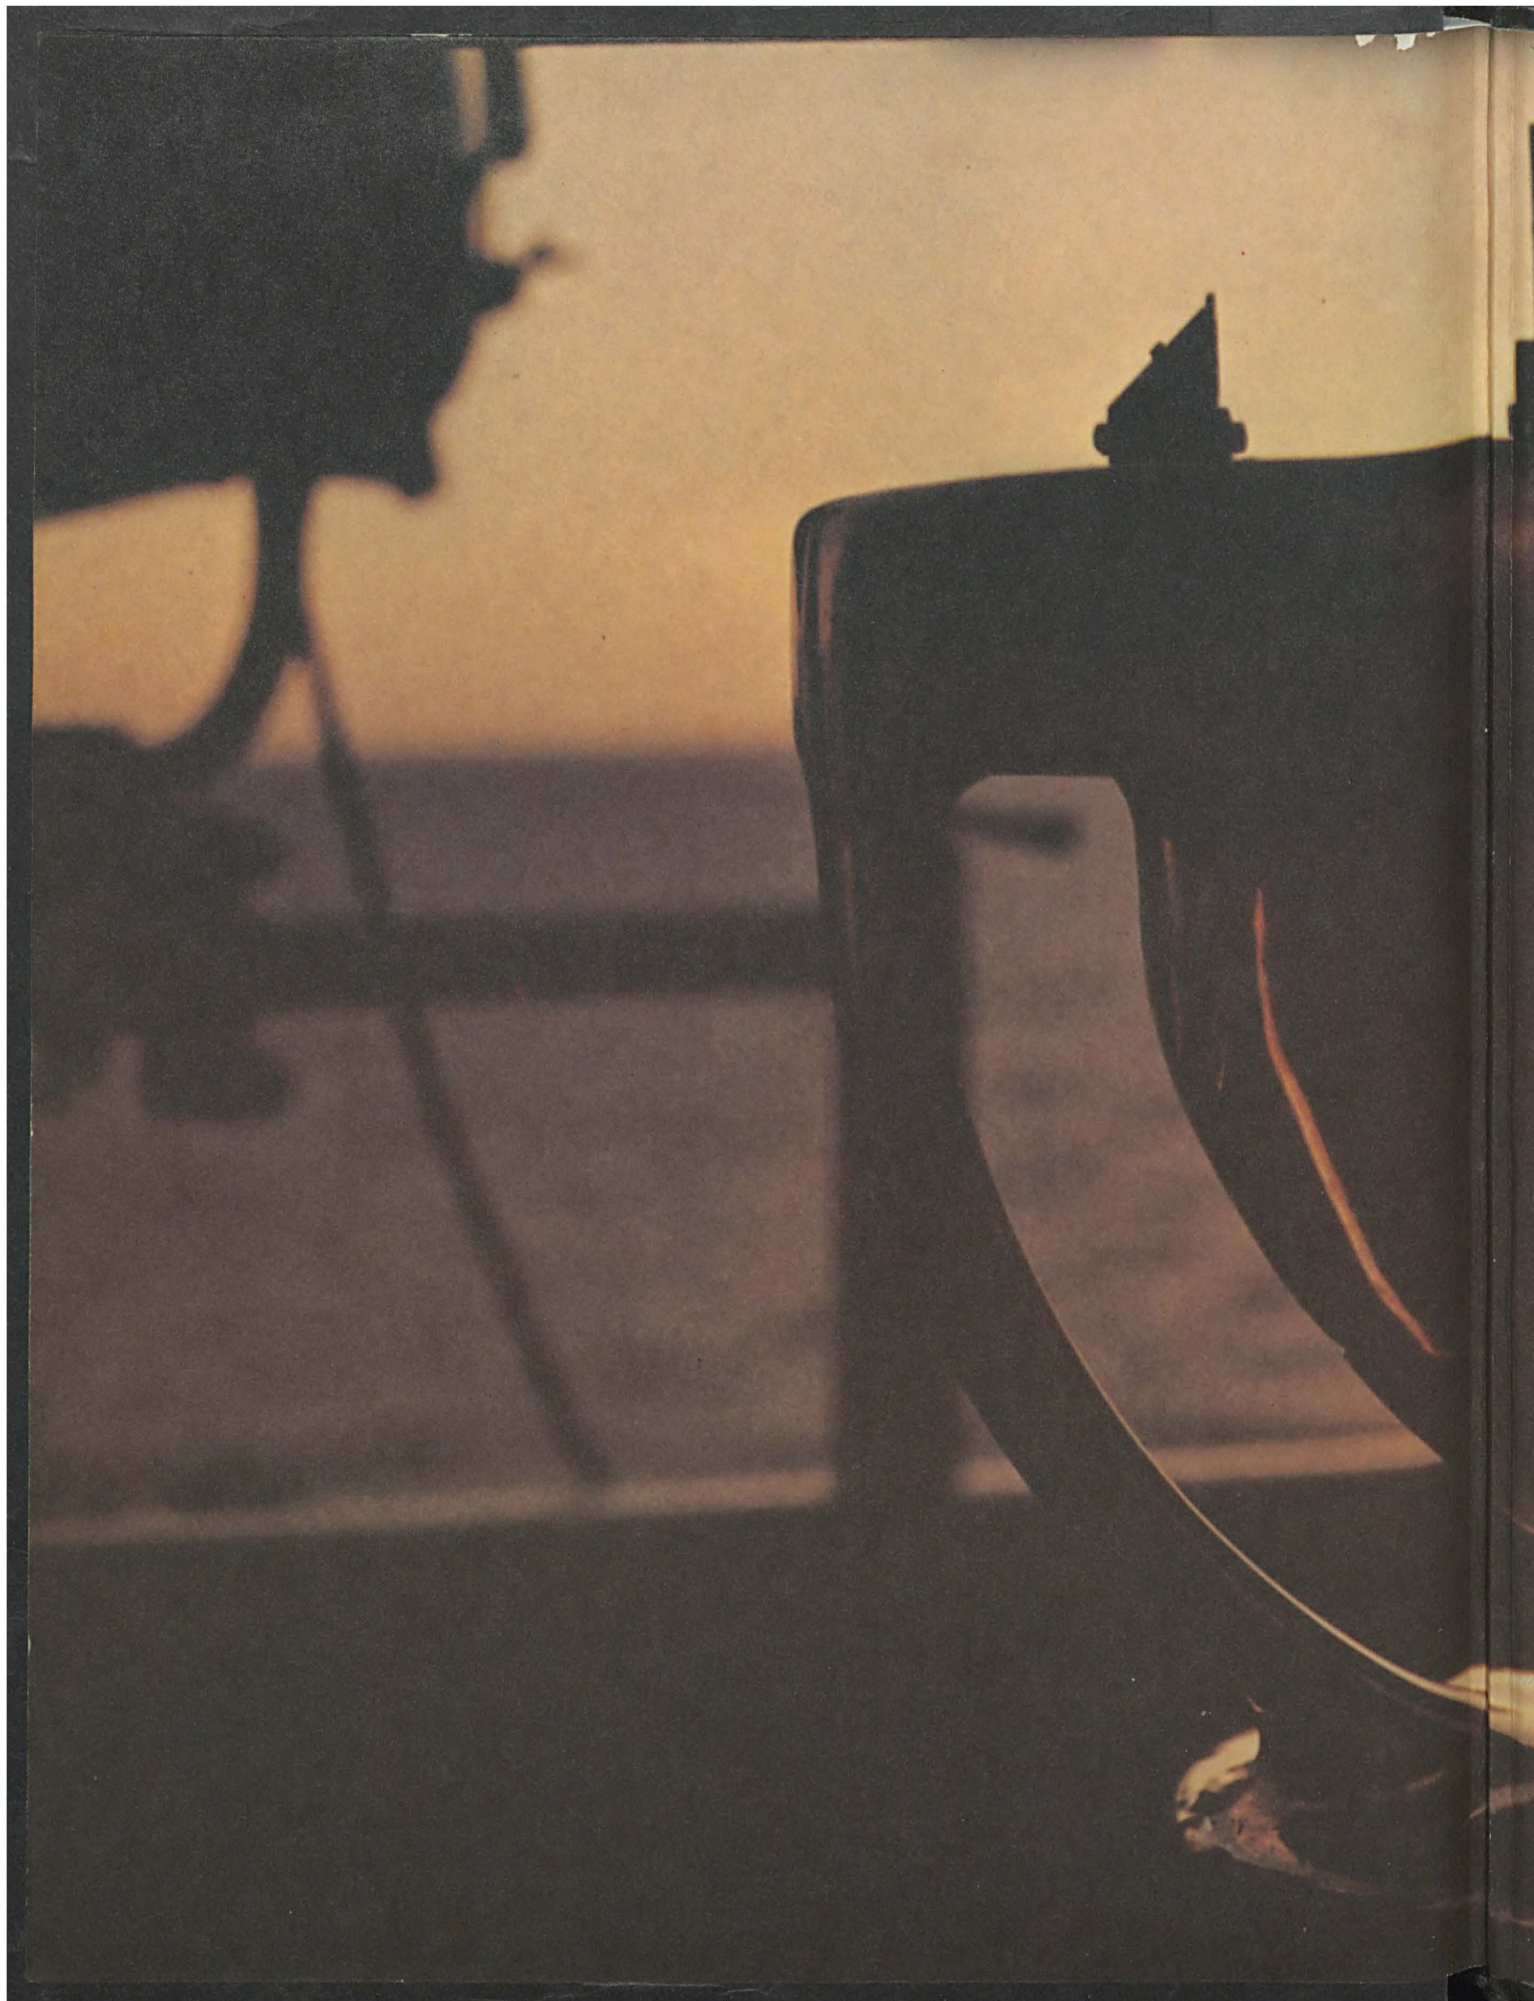

Mark Panza was put in charge of engine plans and training his senior year. Since I've been at Maine Maritime engine plans and training has been run poorly, if at all. In one year Mark has turned Engine plans and training into what it should be, seniors teaching freshmen, showing them the equipment, and the proper operation of the engineroom. This better prepares the freshman to do his job on the cruise, and it gives the seniors an appreciation of how much he has learned, and how much more there is to learn.

The most frustrating problem at Maine Maritime Academy is knowing what the school could be. It could easily be the greatest Merchant Marine School in the world. So I charge each member of the class of 74 with the responsibility of making Maine Maritime the school it should be. Whether it be through donations or any means which is available to us in the future we must guide our school to make the appropriate changes; for if we don't, nobody else will.

A special thanks to my staff for doing a great job.

Sincerely,
Frank Buck
