On a hot August day in 1975, 228 members of the class of 1979 converged on the little town of Castine, which would be their home for the next four years. For most it was their first steps into the military life style. At that time we were the largest class ever to enter the Academy.

We have lived in this environment and for the most part by its rules, but by the ways of this institution our class was slowly cut back to the 146 men destined to graduate.

With the changes of today's society and the changes of the Academy, we do believe that we are the last group entirely made up of men to graduate from the Academy. We have been tagged the letters L.C.W.B. And with that we dedicate these pages to the CLASS OF 1979.
To the Class of 1979:

Congratulations and best wishes to each and every member of the graduating class of 1979!

You have successfully completed four years of intensive study which has prepared you to take your place in the maritime industry of the United States. The career you have chosen is an honorable one which will be of ever-increasing importance to your country in the years ahead.

We at Maine Maritime Academy are pleased to have had the opportunity to be instrumental in your education and development. As you leave Castine, it is our hope that you will return to the Academy in the years ahead as a part of which you can retain your academic and professional connections.

Your alma mater, which the Academy has now become, will continue to grow. The success of this goal will depend greatly on the support and encouragement provided by you and your fellow graduates. Now that the formal part of your association with the Academy has ended, you are encouraged to establish an active and lasting relationship with the institution through your alumni association. In this way you can contribute your efforts to the continued growth of Maine Maritime Academy.

I extend to you a warm farewell with a sincere hope that your life may be filled with good health, happiness, calm seas and following winds.

1. Hey! Young man.

3. Glass doors.
4. A bit, eh, Mr. Marvin?
3 midshipmen disciplined for sex, drink

We'll see: 1. Health, happiness and general well-being. 2. Work in behalf of the peace. 3. Public relief. Recreation. Retreat from one's mind or body after labor through diverting activity. Play.

It's a good thing they're on our side.

So take another take, have a blew for your nose, one more drink before we churn you.

-Ronnie Van Zant, Allen Collins
It was a cold and wintry day when these three mates (? Attempted the feared crossing of the DASH, RAPID memorial courtyard.

Haywood, Smcl and Vinnie obviously taking overconfidence before the feat!

Vinnie goes about the climb in his typical Bass-Ackwards way.

Oh no! Haywood slips facing certain Death after being attacked by a diving Pink Flamingo.

Smcl quickly takes up slack, preventing a death defying plunge back to the quarterdeck, as Vinnie maneuvers out of the path of falling objects.

Smcl has no difficulty overcoming the initial ascent.

They approach mid-station and begin to ascend the north walkway.

While Smcl and Haywood recover from the fall, Vinnie sees his chance to sleeve ahead, making it to the top first.

Buzed from the extremely high altitude, Smcl, Haywood, and Vinnie resign with their rush of victory upon reaching the summit.

In Memoriam

This book is a collection of memories of our past four years, some good and bad, yet all will be remembered. There were three members of our class who are no longer with us that will always be part of those memories. All were great classmates, dedicated to having a good time all the time, which is the true definition of a midshipman.

Al, Chuck, and Keith were good friends to those who knew them. When they left, a little part of us was taken with them, but the memories of these fine gentlemen will always linger on.

How Do I Know There’s A God?

2 Corinthians 3:17
Philippians 2:2

How do I know there’s a God above
Who made our earth below?
How do I know that He is love?
Well, this is how I know—

I hear His voice in the whispering wind
As the west wind bends below
I see His art on the mountain peaks
That are crowned with winter snow
I see His love in the mooping sun
That gives life to growing things
I feel His love on a bright spring day
When I hear a robin sing
I see His hand in the speckled sky
When the stars shine out at night
I feel His warmth in the summer air
When the day is long and light
His power is pressed in the lightning flares,
And when thunder sends its roar
His greatness swells as the ocean waves
Splash and crash along the shore.

His beauty spreads as springtime comes
And blossoms pink and white
Make their debut, and the flowers bloom
In colors warm and bright
I see Him in every dawn’s new day
As the sun opens its eye
His name is written in every path
Of the sunset’s flaming sky.

The earth in orbit around the sun
Is the proof of higher power;
The moon obeys its orbit path
And keeps shining every hour.
As nature moves and performs her deeds
And reveals that God is above,
I know, as plants reaching for the sun,
That my soul longs for His love.

I see Him in every child that’s born
As he clings to love and life
I feel Him in every rapturous song
And in all that is good and right.
I see His love on the pages fair
Of the Bible old, yet new;
Its words though written so long ago
Are as fresh as morning dew.

The Bible says that the earth was formed
By the Word of God, you see.
It also tells of His love for all
And it says that God loves me.
And that’s how in my heart I know
That there is a God above;
And that is how, for the Bible’s true,
That I know that God is love.

This page is dedicated to my parents who have stood behind me all the way
I dedicate this page to the special people in my life: Mom, Dad, and Joyce. Thank you for the unending love, patience, and support which have helped to make this possible.

That best portion of a good man's life, his little, nameless, unremembered, acts of kindness and of love.

William Wordsworth

I would like to dedicate this page to all my friends who have made this dream a reality and especially to my mother and father who were always there to understand and encourage me.

"A new commandment I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. All men will know that you are my disciples if you love one another."
John 13:34-35

Jesus answered, "Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, but whoever drinks the water I give him will never thirst. Indeed, the water I give him will become in him a spring of water welling up to everlasting life."
John 4:13-14

A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. When they had rowed three or four miles, they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water; and they were terrified. But He said to them, "It is I; don't be afraid."
They were willing to take Him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading.
John 6:18-21

That if you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you confess and are saved. As the scripture says, "He who believes in Him will not be put to shame." For there is no difference between Jew and Gentile - The same Lord is Lord of all and richly blesses all who call on Him, for, "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."
Romans 10:9-13

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall lack nothing.
He makes me lie down in green pastures,
He leads me beside quiet waters,
He restores my soul.
He guides me in paths of righteousness
for His name's sake.
Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil,
for you are with me;
Your rod and staff,
they comfort me.
You prepare a table before me
in the presence of my enemies
You anoint my head with oil;
my cup overflows.
Surely goodness and love will follow
all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
Psalm 23

Karl A. Menninger:

When a trout rising to a fly gets hooked and finds himself unable to swim about freely, he begins a fight which results in struggles and splashes and sometimes an escape. In the same way, the human being struggles with the hooks that catch him. Sometimes he masters his difficulties; sometimes they are too much for him. His struggles are all that the world sees, and it usually misunderstands them. It is hard for a free fish to understand what is happening to a hooked one.

— Karl A. Menninger

DRIFTWOOD

Old men, like driftwood from the sea
Cast up in heaps along the shore.
Bespeak missed opportunities
And tell of conquests never known.

Chance passers-by would scarce observe,
These gnarled snags of former groves.
Their days of glory passed and gone,
Their plans and goals like fallen leaves.

And even yet a wandering lad, in
Scuffling through this dismal site,
Might chance to find a twig, a bough:
A lesson learned, a goal defined.

But lads grow old and oft as not,
Misuse of their gifts and lessons learned.
And drift to sea with tidal whim
To join the driftwood on the shore.

On August 23, 1975 Daniel Noyes escaped civilian life and has been ruthlessly torturing the townspeople of Castine, Maine, where he is believed to be disguised as a Kidship member. He has abducted his victims and subjected them to unrelenting hours of "Noyesian Philosophy," a form of Anti-Thinking. This torture has caused the complete and total destruction of the victims' psychological faculties, including irreparable damage to their powers of reasoning and motor-control. At this time, none of the victims have been able to return to normal life, and it is doubted if they ever will be able to.

Noyes is dangerous and will stop at nothing to get what he feels is necessary.
