This yearbook was truly a GAPPED effort by the individuals listed above. It was completed despite the poor assistance of the so-called Photo Club. The 1982 yearbook staff would like to express our appreciation to Taylor Publishing Company and our yearbook advisor, Mr. Cole Harris. We feel this yearbook truly describes our "TRICK" done at M.M.A.

Dedication

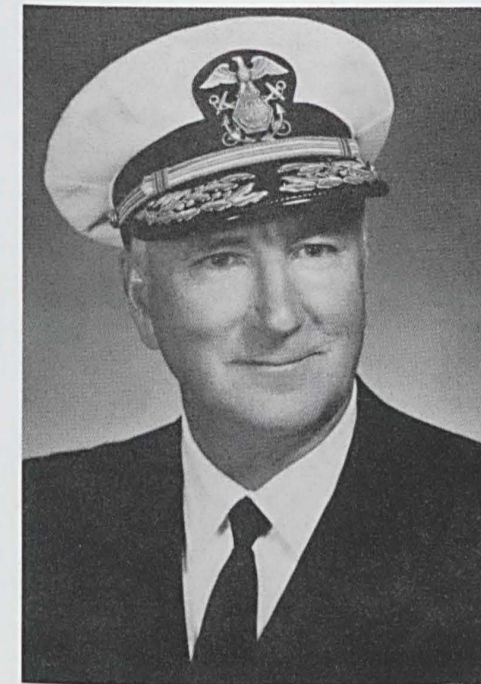

This YEARBOOK is dedicated to a fine gentleman and officer who taught us to be professionals by accepting nothing less than absolute perfection in our and his own work.

His teaching style is one that inspires students to want to learn; to know as much as he does.

Commander Sawyer, we have nothing but respect for you and hope that someday, we will know as much as you know.

To the Class of 1982

Congratulations and best wishes to each and every member of the Class of 1982. Watching you grow in knowledge and wisdom these past few years has been a rewarding experience for those of us who are charged with preparing you for your chosen career. As a class you have earned a fine reputation and as individuals I am confident that you rank with the best who have passed through these halls. Since you are entering the workplace during a year of rather severe recession, many of you will be faced with stiff competition, but this is the arena that separates the men/women from the boys/girls and I'm confident that your training here has prepared you well for these challenges.

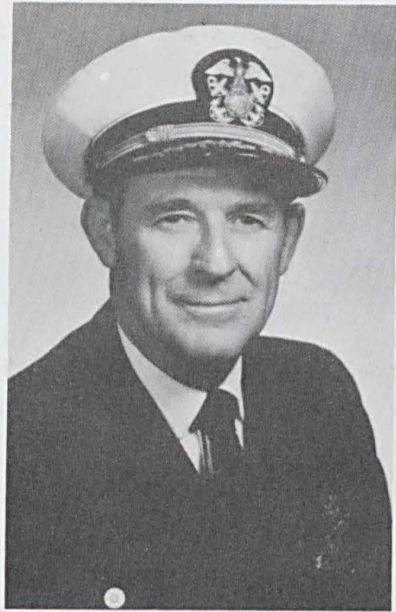

As alumni/alumnae from Maine Maritime Academy you will be received well in the maritime industry and will have an opportunity to enhance the reputation of your alma mater for the benefit of those who follow you. I urge you to keep this in mind and to approach every task with a high degree of professionalism. There are no short cuts to success, but it's there for those who persist in working for it. Your graduation attests to the fact that you have learned this valuable lesson, so with a fair measure of good fortune you have a great future awaiting you.

May you always enjoy fair winds and following seas.

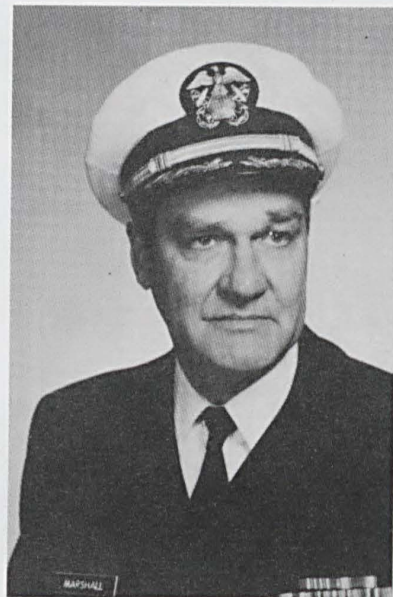

Sincerely,

E. A. Rodgers

The M.M.A. "Wildmen" R.F.C. successfully completed yet another season. While caught somewhat short for leadership and experience, the team managed to face such opponents as Machias, Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Plymouth State, and Coast Guard. Our game record left room for improvement but the proverbial "Third Half" was virtually undefeatable. The club retained a good rapport with other clubs and have multitudinous invitations back (although we were known on occasion as "The people who wouldn't leave.")

On a more serious note we would like to thank CDR. Hathaway and his wife for their help and support. Although the club treads a fine line with existence we are here to stay.

Academic

Council

"CHANGE" is a very frightening word to many people at Maine Maritime Academy.

To bring about change in an environment like ours is certainly not an easy task.

It is our sincere hope that the council's input over these last four years has been beneficial to the general student body and to those who will follow us.

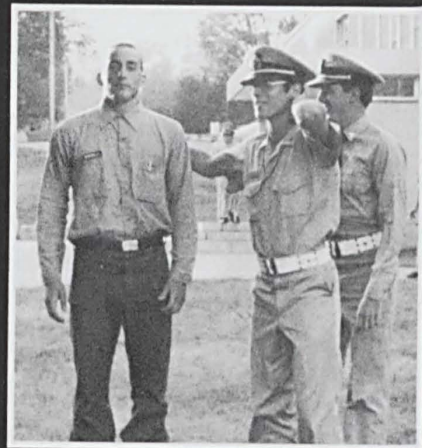

To the underclass: The quality of a MMA education is only as much as you are willing to put into it . . .

Just like everything else!

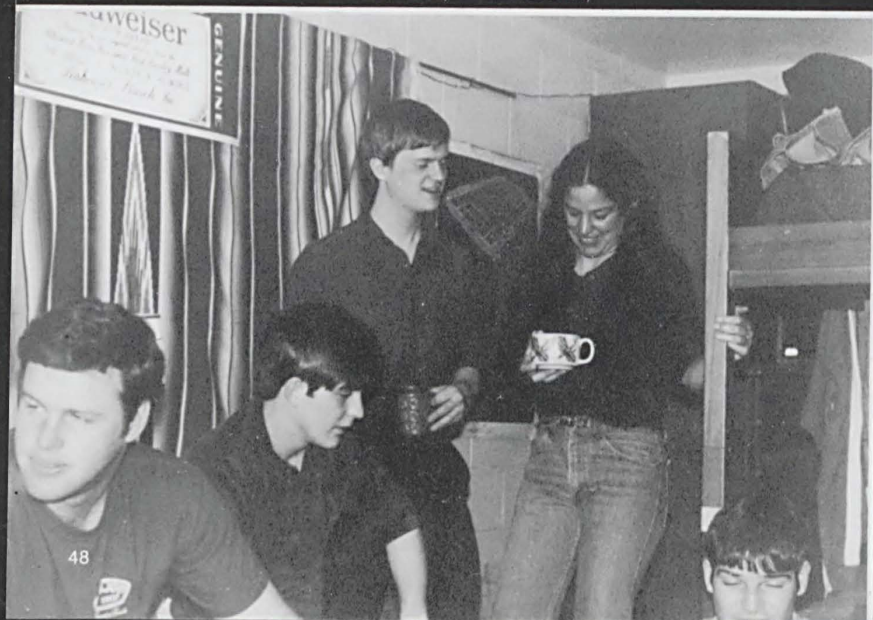

Someone told me he has been there for two days.

I swear I'll kill him.

What a way to start out a day

Graduation

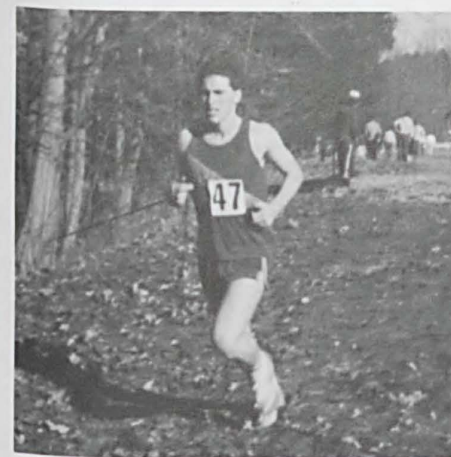

The MMA cross country squad included the following: L TO R, KNEELING: 4/c Daryl Hagar, 1/c Dan Legere, 1/c Dennis Heidenthal, 4/c Clinton Foxwell, and STANDING: 4/c John Perkins, 3/c Kurt Peterson, 3/c Lester Averill, 2/c Dana Altvater, 2/c Mike Trumble (manager), Coach Tom Lafferty.

Cross Country

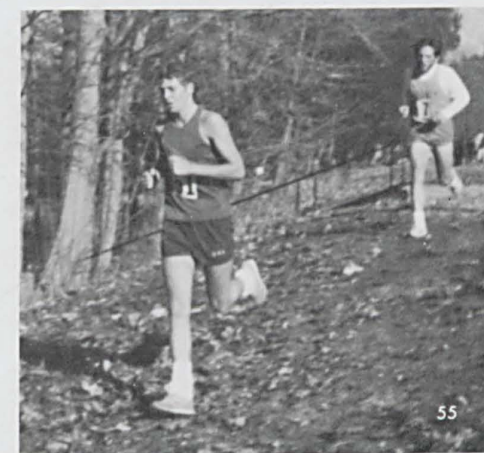

With three of the top four runners returning from the previous season, and the addition of two top running freshmen, the 1981 Mariner squad proved very competitive. However they finished second to UMPI in conference action. Fourth year harriers were co-captains Heidenthal and Legere.

Fox crossed the line first for MMA more than often. Daryl took honors otherwise, with Dan close behind. Dana (Chief) proved to be a key asset when the big meet came around. The team finished seventh in the NAIA District 5 Meet.

The strong depth that made the team so competitive was provided by Lester, Dennis, Kurt and John.

1981 Maine Maritime Football Team

Joe Clark, Jim Brown, Dan Rideout, Roland Melcher, Pete Geissler, Reid Merrill, Mark Eldridge, James Gilbert.
Larry Shedler, Steve Durrell, John Rosa, George Cassy Morrill, Rich Reed, Mike Trip, Marc Lyons, Dave Sutter, Bill Harrison.
Gary Smith, John Knapp, Bob Claridge, Stacey Tower, Rich White, Dave (Amo) Rivet, Tom Colgan III.
Dan Pellerin, John Quilty III, Steve Montembeau, Rich McEwen, Kevin Higgins, Mike Gagnon, Dennis Higgins, Jack Berglund.

This year's football team finished with an overall record of seven wins and two losses. This was an excellent start for our new head coach, Bruce Morse. We ended up second in the N.E.F.C. championship race.

There were many records broken and set for future teams to strive for. Offense led the way, coming in 2nd in rushing in the N.C.A.A. and 5th in the N.A.I.A. They set three school records as a squad this year. 299.0 yards per game, scoring 32 touchdowns, 27 of which were by rushing. The total yards per season was also staggering. This was also a school record as well as a new league record, 2691 yards in one season.

The offense was not the only impressive attribute to this year's team. The defense had a great season also. They lost the most players from last year's championship team. The underclassmen filled in the spaces most efficiently. The defense ended up 9th in the N.C.A.A. and the N.A.I.A. in rushing defense, allowing only 73.8 yards per game and only five touchdowns rushing, which is another school record.

Individual awards: Tom Boothroyd was awarded All-N.A.I.A. District 19 team, E.C.A.C. Div. III All Star, U.P.I.'s Div. II-III New England College Team. Dana Merrill, Alan Harrison, Larry White, Skip Jordan, and Jim Brown all made the NEFC All Star Team. Joe Clark, Larry Shedler, and Mike Morrissey made the NEFC honorable mention list. Alan Harrison also received honors from ECAC Div. III All Star Team and the UPI's Div. II-III New England College Team.

Larry White set a new school rushing record and was the league's top rusher with 1,072 total yards for the season and 119.1 yards per game.

We will be losing 9 players this year, Seniors Mike Morrissey, Doug Lamson, Paul Ostberg, Brian Boardman, Skip Jordan, Alan Harrison, John McKeown, Tom Boothroyd and Jr. Larry White. We also say goodbye to our senior defensive back coach Gary Keene.

In what many experts acclaimed as being a "rebuilding year," MMA's hockey team finished the year with a 2-6 record in the Senior "A" league at Orono. Despite a slow start, the team finished strong, winning its last two games of the season. Seniors (and now NHL free agents) included Jim Canfield (captain), Zony Rossitto (co-captain), Mike O'Malley co-captain, Paul Shea and Paul Lemoine.

Anchors

When sailing through the storm of doubt,
Discouragement, or Pain,
I shall not fear the lashing wind,
Nor fury of the rain.

Three anchors hold my little craft;
I tested them with care;
There's one of faith and one of hope,
And one of daily prayer.

With these to hold my ship secure,
What danger can betide,
I know that I shall reach at last
A harbor safe and wide . . .

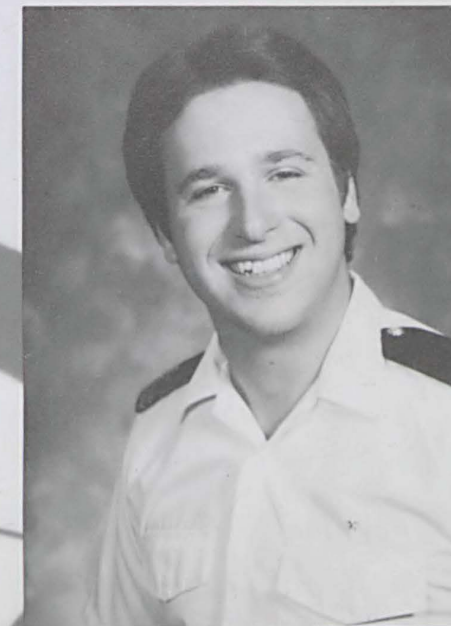

— Bess Samuel Ayres —

Many Thanks to my Parents who supported me, stood by me, and helped me make it through four long years. This page is dedicated to both of you for making one of my dreams a reality. Special Thanks to Jeannie, the future Mrs. Marc Gousse, without your love and understanding none of this would ever have been possible and I never would have made it. I Love you all and can only hope to some day find a way to repay you.

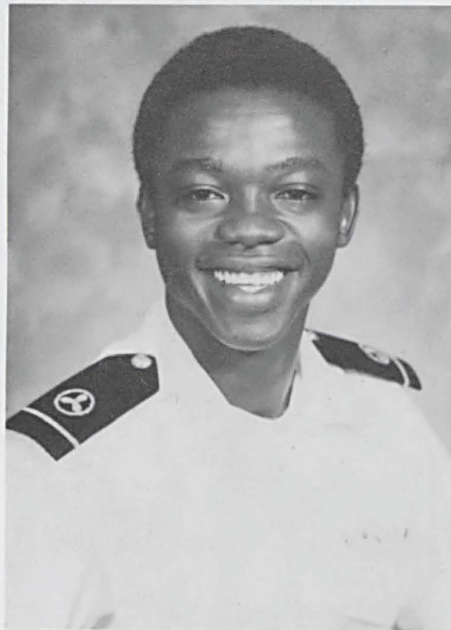

P.S. Thank you Uncle Jack, I have an education and a career because of you.

To all my friends and the class of 1982, you're all great people and max. partiers. Best of luck always in all your future endeavors, farewell and smooth sailing until we meet again.

Someone once said that his great-grandfather, his grandfather and his father all died at sea. His companion then said: "If I were you I would never go to sea. — Why? he replied; where did your ancestors die? — Where?
In their beds, of course. — If I were you, I would never lie down in a bed."

Your smiles have helped every

Jason, my nephew, he's quite a boy, and Desiree, she's beautiful, my goddaughter.

Roads go ever ever on
Under rock and under tree,
My caves where never sun has shone,
By streams that never find the sea;
Over snow by winter dawn,
And through the merry flowers of June,
Over grass and over stone,
And under mountains in the moan.

Roads go ever ever on
Under cloud and under star,
Yet feet that wandering have gone
Turn at last to home afar.
Eyes that fire and sword have seen
And horror in the halls of stone,
Look at last on meadows green
And trees and hills they long have known.

The Road goes ever on and on
Down from the road where it began.
Now far ahead the Road has gone,
And 3 must follow if I can,
Pursuing it with eager feet,
Until it joins some larger way
Where many paths and errands meet.
And wither then? I cannot say.

DAVE YOUNG
Binghamton, New York

Date 9/28

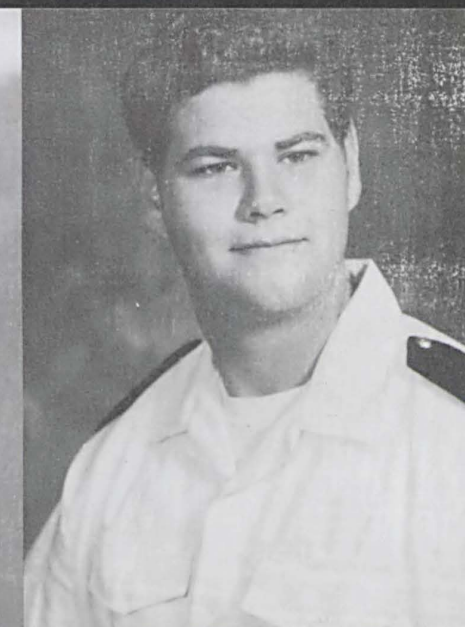

FROM: COMMANDANT OF MIDSHIPMEN

TO: Mid'n 1/C YOUNG (Bandmaster)

VIA: Cdr. Kropp

Lt. deRaaf

Mr. Young . . . this Saturday, this past Sat. I should say which was Parents Day for your parents and those of all your classmates and the other Mid'n at this academy were cheated this year where the band was concerned. As the Bandmaster you assume and take on some serious responsibilities among one of which is giving up of some of your personal time in the interest of music and the school and the Regiment itself . . . I was sadly disappointed this past Saturday as the band in my estimation sounded not too unlike a typical "Salvation Army" band on a cold winter's eve on the curbside in some cold city. You could not be overlooked as you were the very center of attraction both in terms of viewing as you were in the middle of the field by yourself and also because you paid homage to the colors and flag of our country before over 1000 people and you "stunk" and the reason why because as I see it the band was not there . . . but in its place a skeleton crew. Now I want to know in writing why every member of the band was not present and I want to see a list of the names that the bandmaster (as the officer in charge has on report and if you do not have any on report then you really don't have the "gut" factor it takes to handle men . . . This might seem like less than polite talk and that's how it is to be. I assume you are a good musician . . . but as the bandmaster I look to your leadership abilities . . . Now maybe there is a reasonable explanation for all this and if so . . . you will have my personal apology . . . but first you will have to convince me of the reasons why we had such a depleted band on such an important occasion. The band is a good one this year with good music . . . but it sounded like 'hell' Sat.

MARK HAGGERTY

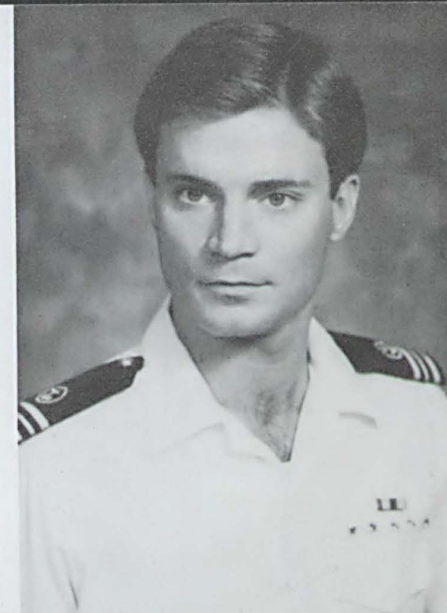

And then, I repeat, I was going home — to that home distant enough for all its hearthstones to be like one hearthstone, by which the humblest of us has the right to sit. We wander in our thousands over the face of the earth, the illustrious and the obscure, earning beyond the seas our fame, our money, or only a crust of bread; but it seems to me that for each of us going home must be like going to render an account. We return to face our superiors, our kindred, our friends — those whom we obey, and those whom we love; but even they who have neither, the most free, lonely, irresponsible and bereft of ties — even those for whom home holds no dear face, no familiar voice — even they have to meet the spirit that swells within the land, under its sky, in its air, in its valleys, and on its rises, in its fields, in its waters and its trees — a mute friend, judge, and inspirer. Say what you like, to get its joy, to breath its peace, to face its truth, one must return with a clear consciousness. All this may seem to you sheer sentimentalism; and indeed very few of us have the will or the capacity to look consciously under the surface of familiar emotions. There are the girls we love, the men we look up to, the tenderness, the friendships, the opportunities, the pleasures! But the fact remains that you must touch your reward with clean hands, lest it turn to dead leaves, to thorns, in your grasp. I think it is the lonely, without a fireside or an affection they may call their own, those who return not to a dwelling but to the land itself, to meet its disembodied, eternal, and unchangeable spirit — it is those who understand best its severity, its saving power, the grace of its secular right to our fidelity, to our obedience. Yes! few of us understand, but we all feel it though, and I say all without exception, because those who do not feel do not count.

SCOTT DAVID GARDNER

pigs can see the wind

once upon a greenwich hour angle there was a duxx who drank a powerful potion called a bubblecuffer instigating hallucinations about being a mate on big ships sailing across deep blue oceans. while still under the influence of odysseys a campaign was launched to acquire the treasured parchments necessary to fulfill these dreams, when the snow melted the pursuit began. it was no ordinary quest as one had to endure three years in the bizarre kingdom of maine maritime academy; (hereafter referred to as the rosebox.)

such an aldritch little place. it was ruled by a benevolent despot and chameleons; inhabited by a menagerie of premature nemotodes, crows, and occasional sprites. instantly the nematodes transformed the duxx into a manatee, which would have been disastrous had not a heffalump with greater magical powers come along and voided the spells. there were all sorts of tiresome games to be played although the protagonists were barely distinguishable from the antagonists and the rules kept changing which made it very difficult for anyone to ever win. all in all life in the rosebox wasn't so bad. there were mandarine oranges, tea and shortbread, and several pilgrimages that resulted in being snout bound as an excuse to inhabit the real world. there were three voyages: the first two delightful and not unlike those voyages of the Owl and the Pussycat, and the third humorous if not a little boring. (it reminded one of "Waiting for Godot.")

a benign god elevates the status of all those who survive a year so the second year in the rosebox was certainly more tolerable despite the absence of the heffalump. the Doubtful Guest provided the most titillating entertainment for duxx and clarissa, now in their second year of cohabitation (ah clarissa, many thanks.) the fourth voyage was a brilliant display of optical illusions! while the ship appeared to move along the horizons it never went anywhere. if it weren't for Kahil, many bottles of bordeaux, chit chats, and Schedar, and naked rompings on the beach one might have gone MAD.

the last year came quickly, and mercifully ended quickly. it was filled with crusades to tennants harbor, ski slopes, new york, and boston- pasta and cappuccino machines provided placebos during the last few months. the heffalump migrated north bearing confections and new plans were made.

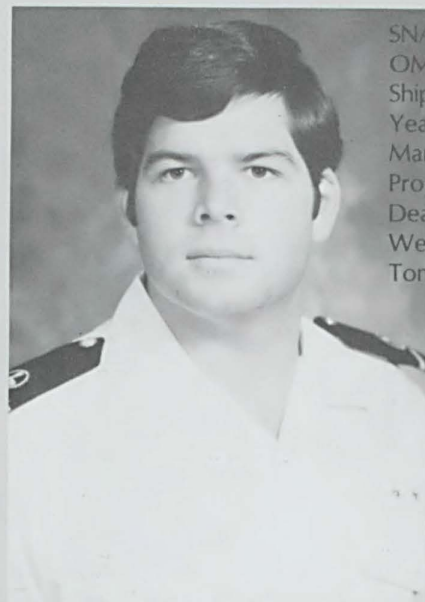

this fairy tale ends, as they all do. it turns out that the manatee is put on the endangered species list; the Doubtful Guest has shown no intention of going away; clarissa turned her pumpkins into tankers and floated away; the nematodes and crows turned into mates and engineers and maybe with a little imagination: knights in shining armor; the duxx acquired the parchment, sailed off with the heffalump and sold out colby degree to an aspiring elf financing the self-steering unit and the winches. the good fairy came along and blessed everyone with jobs despite the declining merchant marine . . . and the rosebox, well it just got filled with more detritus.

the end — thank God, Mother and the Heffalump

Thanks for a great start:

My sister, Lil She may have died' on two wheels, but four wheels took her life. Never to be forgotten

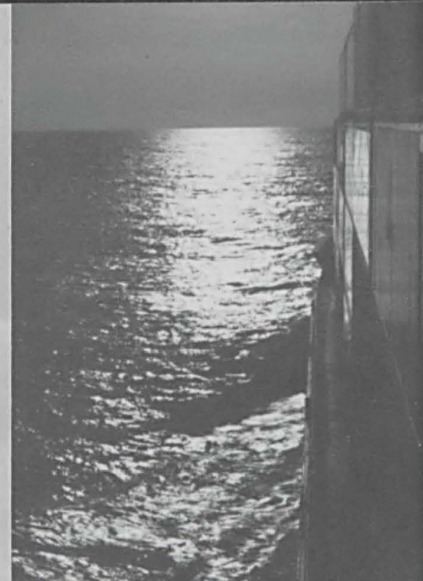

Four years of my life spent eons from nowhere. Many miles driven to escape from MMA; only to turn around and retrace those miles returning on Sunday night. Influenced by many, changed by none. Highlights marked by cadet shipping to the Far East, trips to Florida and Texas. Beginnings marked by graduation. I want to thank everyone encountered.
