Tricks End

Webster defines 'Tricks End' as;

"... The relief of the helmsman from the wheel." We, the yearbook staff, however define it far less eloquently although the essence prevails. Thus, we decided, so should the title of this two hundred and ninety-eight page docudrama.

Tricks End '87 therefore is a visual reminder of the watch that each of us (featured on the following pages) on a small ship called Maine Maritime Academy, in a desolate Sea known as Castine, stood. It's a tale of truths, triumphs, and treasures. Truths realized from a science of unknowns, triumphs over an ocean of obstacles, and the treasures that we hold both in our hands and our minds.

For as our turn at the wheel is passed along to another a greater wheel is in turn passed along to us which is where we (classmates) may take heart for there is no wheel too great for graduates of Maine Maritime Academy. Especially from the Class of 1987.

Sincerely,
Ted Regan

President Curtis

18 April 1987

To the Class of 1987:

As you complete your education at Maine Maritime Academy, and as I approach my first commencement as president, let me offer warm greetings and congratulations. Your class is outstanding in many respects and will be remembered with pride by all of us in Castine.

You are graduating into a world where there are no guarantees and, unquestionably, the industry for which you have been trained is sailing in troubled waters. Nevertheless, we look to the future with optimism because of the unique nature of this educational enterprise, and because of the sense of vision that has characterized Maine Maritime Academy for nearly half a century.

Your experience here has prepared you for success in ways that, at this point, you may not fully realize. I can assure you that society will recognize you as products of a college that has strengthened your character, your sense of discipline, and your commitment to high professional and personal values.

We can't know what the future holds, but there is one certainty — that wherever you travel, from here on out to the end of the line, you will be a representative of this proud institution and everything for which it stands.

All good wishes for the years ahead.

Sincerely,

KENNETH M. CURTIS

Captain Eisenhardt

1987

Dear Graduate:

As one travels through life there are several "descriptors" often asked of one to help define them in the eyes of the inquirer. Whether at a party or in an interview you will probably be asked where you are from, if you are married, what you do, what you like, if you have children, and where you went to school.

At those times you often begin to realize just how important those college years were to your personal development, and just how much pleasure they did give you. Rarely again will you have so much unobligated time and boundless energy to do what you want amongst so many friends. The hard times dim over the years, but the good times live on and on. And so it should be.

Hopefully you will feel great pride and pleasure at saying that you went to Maine Maritime Academy. I certainly say with pride that I taught to and worked with the Class of 1987.

Good luck, and may the waters of your life be calm and the winds of your destiny blow fair.

Sincerely,

W. B. Eisenhardt, Ph.D.

ATTN: ALL MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1987

Although "Painting the Cannon" is a great tradition, it has become rather boring . . . .

And since our class is far from boring, the C.L.O. decided that it was high time for a NEW idea, creative and large enough so that the whole class could participate. Well after many sleepless nights, it finally came . . . .

An INFAMOUS SHOE TOSS!!! Yes, hundreds of pairs of coraframs, cleats, sneakers, and boots which after being dunked in our sacred color RED will be thrown two by two (Yea, like the animals boarding the ark) into the great Elm Tree between the Quarterdeck and the Bookstore. The tree will have a sign, so don't worry.

The designated sacred hour — during which a class picture for the Yearbook will be taken — is 1700.

When??? Thursday, April 9th, 1987.

RUGBY '87

Twos the night before a rugby match
And all through the dorm,
Not a middle was stirring,
Quite out of the norm.

The ruggers were nestled all snug in their racks,
Dreaming of how to protect their precious sacks.

I in my boxers and Brian checking his gear,
Had just settled back to tap the first keg of beer.
When out in the courtyard there arose such a clatter,
Middies sprang to their feet
to see what was the matter.

Out in the courtyard lined up in a row,
Were twelve drunken ruggers all scrumming in the snow.

And what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But eight more ruggers with eight kegs of beer.
They sang and they boasted all through the night,
How their opponents wouldn't be much of a fight.

They all awoke early, looking quite pale,
Having to drive two hours to pay twisted's bail.

They arrived at Orono to put on a show,
Although none of them knew his head from his toe.

They played all morning, they played all day,
knowing there would be plenty of beer on its way.

They sang and they drank all through the night,
Chugging and barfing what a wonderful sight.

They left the party, fire still in their eyes,
Knowing they could get between the rugby queen's thighs.
And when it was over they said with a sneer,
MMA rugby is the balls, see you next year!!!

Are those Coraframs?

My Lost Youth

by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Oftentimes I think of the beautiful town
That is seated by the sea;
Often in thought go up and down
The pleasant streets of that dear old town,
And my youth comes back to me.
And a verse of a Lapland song
Is haunting my memory still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

I can see the shadowy lines of its trees,
And catch, in sudden gleams,
The sheen of the far-surrounding seas,
And islands that were the Hesperides
Of all my boyish dreams.
And the burden of that old song,
It murmurs and whispers still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

I remember the black wharves and the slips,
And the sea-tides tossing free;
And Spanish sailors with bearded lips,
And the beauty and mystery of the ships,
And the magic of the sea.
And the voice of that wayward song
Is singing and saying still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

I remember the bulwarks by the shore,
And the fort upon the hill;
The sunrise gun, with its hollow roar,
The drum-beat repeated o'er and o'er,
And the bugle wild and shrill.
And the music of that old song
Throbs in my memory still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

I remember the sea-fight far away,
How it thundered o'er the tide!
And the dead captains, as they lay
In their graves, o'erlooking the tranquil bay
Where they in battle died.
And the sound of that mournful song
Goes through me with a thrill:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."
I can see the breezy dome of groves,
The shadows of Deering's Woods;
And the friendships old and the early loves
Come back with a Sabbath sound, as of doves
In quiet neighborhoods.
And the verse of that sweet old song,
It flutters and murmurs still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

I remember the gleams and glooms that dart
Across the school-boy's brain;
The song and the silence in the heart,
That in part are prophecies, and in part
Are longings wild and vain.
And the voice of that fitful song
Sings on, and is never still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

There are things of which I may not speak;
There are dreams that cannot die;
There are thoughts that make the strong heart weak,
And bring a pallor into the cheek,
And a mist before the eye.
And the words of that fatal song
Come over me like a chill:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

Strange to me now are the forms I meet
When I visit the dear old town;
But the native air is pure and sweet,
And the trees that o'ershadow each well-known street,
As they balance up and down,
Are singing the beautiful song,
Are sighing and whispering still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

And Deering's Woods are fresh and fair,
And with joy that is almost pain
My heart goes back to wander there,
And among the dreams of the days that were,
I find my lost youth again.
And the strange and beautiful song,
The groves are repeating it still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

My Father — The greatest inspiration I have whose love and support helped me to survive at both academies — I love you.

Thanks Mom, Walter, Emily and John for bearing with me.

Plus a special thanks to my Grandmother and Grandfather who never lost faith in me.

Party — A friend that made this place bearable.

It was real
It was fun
But it definitely wasn't real fun

Mom and Dad, through everything you were there for me. Thanks to you two, this year the light at the end of the tunnel was not an oncoming train. I love you.

IT'S ALL YOURS . . .

Because it's TRICKS END!!!

11 March 1987

While desperately seeking creativity for the 1987 Yearbook, we, the Editors, have decided that you, the personnel of MMA, could be of great assistance.

We ask a moment of your time, to simply, in one sentence, give us a word of advice or even a quote that will guide us through rough seas and into the future . . .

There is no magic formula for success — only hard work. KENNETH M. CURTIS

"Courage" DR. EISENHARDT

I hear, and I forget. I see, and I remember.
I do, and I understand. HUTCH (Confucius)

"The American people get the merchant marine they demand, and deserve." BUCKO

"Life is tough, but it's tougher if you're stupid." ALLAN KUONG

"The best things in life must be worked for" JOHN F. ROBINSON

"If it's not fun . . . you're not doing it right." LCDR SCHNEIDER

"Why not do today what you would do tomorrow" PRISCILLA ROBINSON

"Smile and the world smiles with you." BARBARA TROTT

"Remember not to equate success with monetary gain — be wealthy with happiness." ALLAN WHITEMORE

"Be good to yourself when, nobody else will" LT J. WRIGHT (Steve Perry)

"UCFAOBS" SAM TELL

"Set goals and maintain a good personality." CDR PHILIP HARMAN

"What you get out of MMA is directly related to what you put into it." GENE SPINAZOLA

"Your graduation marks not the end, but a pause in your education. Keep your sense of curiosity, and make your learning your avocation." DON SMALL

"When you are feeling that all the world is mad, and men and women are always bad, If you pause and give things their due, You will find life is beautiful, And what is wrong is you." MARY E. KELLEHER

"A sense of humor makes the heaviest burden seem lighter, so search for a smile when the going gets rough." MRS. "T"

The LAST Class Party . . . .

ADS

In that year, colonists built their first ocean-going vessel. Christened the Virginia of Sagadahock, it sailed from a little shipyard just twelve miles down river from the present site of the Bath Iron Works.

Since its founding in 1884, Bath Iron Works has added many "firsts" to Maine's catalogue of maritime achievements. And through the years, we've made the hallmark "Bath-built" a synonym for shipbuilding excellence.

In the years to come, we will build ships in Bath and repair others in Portland. And each ship will carry a part of Maine's proud maritime heritage to the oceans of the world.

Thanks, Maine, for a great shipbuilding tradition.

*Maine launched the U.S. Merchant
Marine in 1607.*

A history of Bath Iron Works is on exhibit at the Maine Maritime Museum in Bath.
