2012 - 2013

Dedication

The 2012 – 2013 Trick's End yearbook staff would like to dedicate the 2012 yearbook to Lynn Mosher for her impact on the student body. Lynn has dedicated six years to Maine Maritime Academy in the mail room and 13 months as the Tutoring Coordinator. Her smile and positive attitude encourage students to succeed, whether that is by finding a tutor or using her bulletin board to distribute helpful information. Lynn's dedication to her job gives the student body a positive event in their day. Lynn enjoys working with the student body because the students are always positive.

Being a role model is more than just being a superhero. A role model is someone who enjoys life to the fullest and makes the best out of any situation. Lynn is an excellent role model for the students here at Maine Maritime Academy.

Thank you, Lynn, for your service.
We are looking forward to the future!!

Class of 2013,

Congratulations to you all. As we celebrate this achievement together, we can reflect back on our four years to see our growth, our accomplishments, our development, and our success. This success is viewed and admired through many eyes. Through our parent's eyes you can see growth and development, through our peer's eyes, you can see pride and achievement, and through our own eyes, we can see success. Here at Maine Maritime Academy, we take pride in growth of individuals to leaders, from students to shipmates, and acquaintances to friends. This has helped provide us with a foundation to continue on the path of success.

Four years ago, we celebrated the same thing: a graduation. From high school instead of college, where we feared from the future and missing our old friends and classmates. Now four years later, we are facing the same feeling but this time it's much different. We are closing the last chapter in a book and opening up a novel. With closing this chapter, our class has acquired a phenomenal record of service academically and athletically. We have supported and taken active roles in the community to help MMA and Castine grow with us.

Opening a new novel holds several emotions but life is wonderful journey. It's a course that you can bend or straighten every day. Eleanor Roosevelt once said, "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams". So as you step into the world, prepare your mind and the skills that you have developed your whole life and set goals with a positive attitude and strong spirit. With this, I wish all of you a great future ahead and the best wishes for your career aspirations. In addition, remember that every hello ends with a good bye, however a good bye is not forever but a way to say take care, good luck and see you soon.

Sincerely,

Autumn Jones
Class of 2013, President

Dear Class of 2013,

Congratulations. We have had to endure a lot of long days but our success can be attributed to hard work, dedication and perseverance.

You are the result of your thoughts and actions. You started your journey by making the decision to come to Maine Maritime Academy, which was one of the best you could have made. Like all the graduates that have passed through this program, you will enter the work force and continue to uphold the Maine Maritime's reputation of producing outstanding employees with work ethic, high moral values and skills that exceed the industry standards. It is this reputation that has given our graduates such a high job placement rate and has opened doors for all of us. Utilize these opportunities and remember to do what you love and success will follow.

As we depart and go our separate ways, remember we will see each other again; it is a very small world. Nothing but great opportunities lie ahead of you. Pursue them forcefully and with conviction. You will do great things, because that is what we are trained to do.

Fair winds and following seas,
Kevin Lees

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO THE CLASS OF 2013

Congratulations! You have stayed the course and reached this long awaited goal. I am confident that as you go out into the world, you will find that the education you have received here will stand you in good stead, regardless of what you decide to do with your future. With your newly acquired knowledge and skills, you will go far, and the friendships you have made on campus and in the community of Castine, will be with you always.

Because of Maine Maritime Academy's size and small coastal town surroundings, we have the advantage of a closer, more personalized student body. For this, I have had the good fortune of getting to know many of you, and as the years have gone by, I have watched you grow into competent and confident young men and women with sound values who we are all proud to call alumni.

As you leave us, you will join the ranks of thousands of Maine Maritime Academy alumni who work all over the world. No matter where you go, or what you do, I trust you will endeavor to make the world a better place and that you will remember those who come after you and offer them a helping hand. As you begin this new chapter in your lives, bear in mind that you get out of life what you put into it.

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and trustees, I wish you happiness and success and a future filled with achievement, prosperity and service to others.

Sincerely,

Dr. William J. Brennan
President

Letter from the Commandant

Dear Class of 2013,

As you finish your careers as students and prepare to embark on your professional careers, there are a few thoughts I would like to leave you with. Since before many of you started high school, our country has been fighting at least one ongoing war or conflict and the result is a country that is as politically divided as ever. Although many of you have not been affected directly by these conflicts, your career choices will most definitely be impacted by them and the resulting fiscal realities faced by our great country. While this may sound like a bleak forecast of your prospects, I challenge you to look at this as an opportunity. You are young, highly skilled leaders ready to take your career fields by storm by providing new vision and ideas to make a difference. To be sure, nothing will be handed to you and your degree from Maine Maritime Academy does not come with any entitlements. However, you have spent the last four years developing and honing the skills to not just survive but to excel in your chosen field and to make a difference in your communities.

I am confident in your abilities because in the short time I have known your class you have demonstrated that you have heart. By this I mean that you care about what is right and you are motivated to do the right thing. I can point to any number of changes on the campus that came about because you saw a better way to do things and you took responsibility to make the improvement. Your leadership has been evident in the myriad activities that you have led, from standing organizations to those new groups or programs that you have initiated.

LT Hassett, LT Kaiser, LT Stewart, Mr. Cade and I look forward to witnessing the great things you will do as alumni of Maine Maritime Academy and we wish you Fair Winds and Following Seas.

N. GANDY

Mariner Pride Award

The mariner pride award is given to a community event, which brings the MMA and Castine communities together. The 2012 Chili Cook-Off sponsored by MMA Security recieved this award. The nominator wrote, "[this event] embodies what should be celebrated; a complete community effort that promotes competition, pride and of course...food!"

Student Life Awards

144 awards were handed out in 2012. These awards are given out to recognizing members of the Maine Maritime Academy and Castine communities.

Unsung Mariner Award

Sarah Hudson has served MMA and the community for many years as a professor and on the Bagaduce Ambulance. Her nominee wrote: "I dare you to find someone that she hasn't impacted. She is a part of everyone on the campus and in the community in some way. She is extremely deserving of this award!"

2012

-Regimental Preparatory Training-

RPT

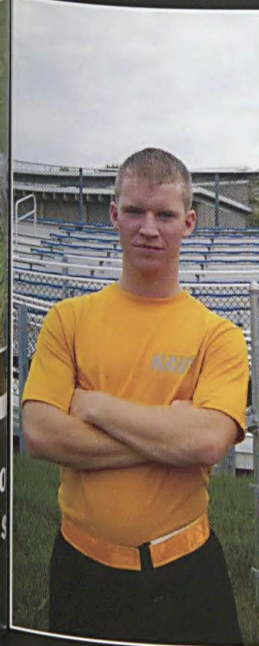

Since its inception in 1972, the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC) unit at Maine Maritime Academy has commissioned over 700 men and women of the highest caliber into the United States Naval Service. Their journey begins freshmen year when they report for the annual Navy Indoctrination period. Throughout their academic careers, the young midshipmen are challenged in numerous ways including ample Physical Training, as well as being tasked with one of numerous staff billets. With all that hard work, there comes time to play; the NROTC students' recreational fund helps sponsor several events throughout the year, including Dining-In and the annual Navy and Marine Corps Ball. While the four years these midshipmen spend at the Academy certainly are demanding, they graduate prepared to face the even more demanding task of leading the nation's young men and women aboard ships, submarines, and aircraft, or within the United States Marine Corps.

Don't fear death, don't fear failure and don't lose your faith. When you leave, leave a legacy. Make excellence a habit and inspire others to do the same. Every day, strive to be a better person. Don't expect recognition, fight for what is right regardless. It's not about the awards you receive; it's about the lives you touch while you're here, that's what will continue your legacy. William Olson

From issuing your first order to Captain of the Sweet V, you've always been in charge. We've had many great adventures, now they can be on your dime! Treat your crew as you've been taught; "It is what it is" from Lee ad reserve "Full Frontal Dad and/or Dennis" for those truly important situations. Always remember "Be a Hero, not a Zero."
Love, Mom and Dad

Travis Stone

Congratulations Travis! We are all so very proud of you and your accomplishments! All of your hard work has paid off. We are looking forward to your next adventures!
Love Mom and Dad

Thomas Drouin

After all the hard work, comes the beginning a Bright New Future. You now stand at the edge of a Big New World, SEIZE IT, ENJOY IT, OWN IT! We are, and always will be so PROUD OF YOU! Be Safe and Be Sure!
Love Mom and Dad!

Micheil J. McLeod

Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover.

"You don't raise heroes, you raise sons. And if you treat them like sons, they'll turn out to be heroes, even if it's just in your own eyes."

As you embark on this chapter in your life, know how very proud I am of the man you have become. If you can experience even a fraction of the happiness you have given me I know your life will be complete.

All my love and support,

Mom

Matthew Berry

Congratulations Matthew!

We are so proud that you have accomplished what you set out to do.

Love, Grandma and Grandpa

Matthew,
I have never been more proud to stand by your side as you end this chapter and begin another. You have accomplished many amazing things these past four years and will only continue to succeed. I am so very fortunate to have been there with you. Congratulations Matt! I love you more than anything.

All my love, Molly

Ivan Haugstad

If I ride the wings of the morning, if I dwell by the farthest oceans, even there your hand will guide me, and your strength will support me.
